CHINA'S GREAT BATTLE APPROACHING CLIMAX

Warm Words At Ontario Inquiry On Hydro Affairs

Ex-Attorney-General Roebuck in Exchange With McCullagh of Globe and Mail

He Also Tells Of Oshawa Strike

TORONTO (CP)—Arthur W. Roebuck, former Attorney-General and Hydro commissioner, suggested to a special legislative committee today it might "perform a public service" if it investigated the 1936 purchase of the Toronto Mail and Empire by C. George McCullagh, then publisher of the Globe and now of the Globe and Mail.

Mr. Roebuck made a heated reply to a statement by Mr. McCullagh published in this morning's Globe and Mail that the Toronto publisher had considered Mr. Roebuck "unfit to hold public office."

The former Attorney-General read the following part of the McCullagh statement:

"I did tell Premier Hepburn on many occasions that, due to Mr. Roebuck's distorted views of right and wrong and his utter lack of respect for the judiciary, he was an unfit man to hold the position of Attorney-General and, due to his lack of honor and principle in dealing with public questions, I regarded him as a menace to public life."

DISMISSAL DEMAND

Yesterday Mr. Roebuck told the committee, appointed at the last session to inquire into affairs of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, that his dismissal from office was demanded of Premier Hepburn by Mr. McCullagh in December, 1936. He was not asked by the Premier to resign until April, 1937.

In his published reply, Mr. McCullagh denied the charge that Mr. Roebuck's resignation was "made the price of the Globe and Mail's support of the government."

At the opening of today's sitting Mr. Roebuck said he wished to "object to the trial by newspaper which I see in this morning's paper." He took serious objection to "an improper besmirching and villification of a witness while he is in the box."

"Is that worse than the besmirching and villification of someone who is not a witness by a witness?" demanded J. H. Clark, Liberal M.P.P. for Windsor-Sandwich and a member of the committee.

Mr. Roebuck asserted that what he had said "was the truth under oath."

LESSONS NOT NEEDED

"I need no lessons from the Globe and Mail in the matter of honesty, but I don't measure my

ROME (CP-Havas) — In line with the campaign to foster closer understanding between the two peoples, 2,500 Italian industrial workers left today to take positions in German plants.

Elusive Scout Is Sought Here

Local Youngsters Hopeful of Capturing "Gunga Din" Role

Hopeful kids, nursing an ambition to become an actor, hung around the rotundas of city hotels today.

They were looking for Edward Killy, talent scout for RKO, reported to be in Victoria seeking a character for "Gunga Din," a new motion picture to be produced in Hollywood, based on Rudyard Kipling's famous poem.

The Hollywood scout, who was supposed to have arrived by yesterday's boat from Vancouver, is an elusive person.

If he is still in the city he is not broadcasting the fact. The hotel registers failed to contain the name of the scout, or his photographer, Alex. Kahle. Hotel clerks were exasperated by the numerous telephone inquiries seeking the whereabouts of the movie men.

Inquiries were made by ambitious parents as to what nationality was required to take the character of the dusky water boy.

If a Hindu is sought there are plenty of Hindu children in Victoria. On the other hand there are plenty in California also. Inquiries among the local Hindus elicited information that no inquiries had been made in the community by talent scouts.

The Hindus, however, are confident they could produce a boy who would fit into the picture.

Killy and Kahle have been taking hundreds of photographs of possible candidates for the role of "Gunga Din" throughout the United States and Canada.

HORSE IN BEER PARLOR

LEAMINGTON, Ont. (CP) — William Nesbitt enticed his faithful horse into a local beverage room, but the waiter would not serve it. Instead, Nesbitt was served with a 30-day sentence in jail for intoxication in a public place.

THREE MINERS KILLED

CHESTERFIELD, Eng. (CP-Havas) — Three miners were killed and eight injured in an accident at nearby Clowne today.

Floridians Join in Manhunt

Angered to the point of threatening lynching when the kidnappers of five-year-old James B. Cash Jr. of Princeton, Fla., failed to return the boy with promised promptness after his father had paid $10,000 ransom, citizens of the vicinity gathered by hundreds near the Cash home. Next day many of the men shown in the picture above joined posses, which since, under police direction, have searched many square miles around Princeton. The boy was stolen from bed in the family home last Saturday night. See story of today's hunt on Page 2.

Smoke On Mountain Starts New Search For Zeballos Plane

Ground Parties Hunting 40 Miles Southeast of Mining Town

ZEBALLOS, B.C. (CP) — Pilot Ted Dobbin telephoned here from Estevan Point today he had investigated Indian reports of smoke seen rising from a mountain near Flores Island, and that they seemed authentic.

The story of intermittent smoke plumes raised hopes of aerial searchers that Pilot Len Waagen of Edmonton and his three Vancouver-Zeballos passengers might still be alive after being unreported for a week.

Dobbin said the "tip was so good" it was planned to begin an intensive ground search in the vicinity of Flores Island, with perhaps 30 or 40 men taking part. Indian trackers were dispatched to the area from which the smoke seemed to come.

AT SIDNEY INLET

The hunt on the ground will be concentrated in the district around Sidney Inlet, Burroughs Point and inland to the head of Muchalat Inlet on the west coast of Vancouver Island about 40 miles southeast of Zeballos.

A British Columbia police motor launch was working in the vicinity of Hesquiat, where residents said they had seen a plane late last Friday, the day Waagen's plane was first missed.

The missing craft took off from Wells Air Harbor in Vancouver at 9.30 last Friday morning. It was piloted by Waagen and carried as passengers Mrs. George Nicholson of Zeballos, Charles R. Rumsey of Toronto and H. Boyd of Steveston, B.C.

FISHERMEN'S REPORT

A Rev. Mr. Caldwell reported to air search headquarters here that Indians fishing off Rafael Point had seen a plane dodging in and out of fog banks last Friday morning about 10.30, flying toward Hesquiat Lake.

Rafael Point is on the western tip of Flores Island, off Vancouver Island's west coast.

The Indians said further they had seen smoke rising from the island last Tuesday evening, also on Wednesday and again yesterday morning.

COLLEGE DEAN LOSES HIS LIFE

Rev. Canon G. W. Hedley, Vancouver, Asphyxiated in Ontario Brush Fire

PETERBOROUGH, Ont (CP) —Believed victim of smoke from a bush fire several days ago, the body of Rev. Canon G. W. Hedley, 72, dean of the Anglican Theological College at the University of British Columbia, was found late last night near his vacation cottage at Stoney Lake.

The remains of the clergyman, formerly of Toronto, were discovered by his nephew, Kenneth A. MacKenzie, headmaster of the Grove School at Lakefield, Ont. The canon's wrist watch was stopped by water when he apparently tried to fill a pail of water at the lake to extinguish the fire, which broke out last Sunday. The fire burned over an acre or more of pine brush fringing a group of summer cottages at Stoney Lake in this Kawartha Lakes district 100 miles northeast of Toronto.

The body was clad in pyjamas and slippers, over which the clergyman had drawn a pair of trousers and a sweater coat in a hurried attempt to extinguish the blaze.

Mr. Mackenzie, who came over late yesterday from Lakefield, saw the burned over area and came on the body of Canon Hedley.

CORONER'S OPINION

Dr. J. C. Smith, coroner, expressed belief death was due to asphyxiation from the wood smoke and shock last Sunday.

Canon Hedley retired from the active ministry in Toronto two years ago.

He was an overseas chaplain with the Canadian Expeditionary Force in the Great War.

Kidnap Charge Heard at Oxford

OXFORD, Eng. (AP) — A charge of inciting to kidnap Viscount Nuffield was laid today against a burly yachtsman, John Bruce Thornton, after a mysterious incident at the motor magnate's Cowley plant the night of May 24. Thornton, 50, made no statement and was remanded until June 9.

Ontarion Heads Manufarturers

W. D. Black, Hamilton, Succeeds F. C. Brown As C.M.A. President

OTTAWA (CP)—W. D. Black, Hamilton, Ont., was elected president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association today at the concluding business session of its annual convention. He succeeds F. C. Brown of Vancouver.

The executive committee includes the following in B.C.: Edwin Tomlin and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., both of Victoria; J. H. McDonald and J. G. Robson, both of New Westminster; W. J. West, J. B. Thomson, J. H. Roat, T. S. Dixon, all of Vancouver.

Unemployables Now 60 Per Cent

City Relief Cases Struck Off Government List Total More Than Half

Approximately 60.5 per cent of relief cases drawing allowances in the city during the month of May were listed as "unemployables," according to figures compiled by the city relief office today.

Of 460 heads of families registered for May, 209 were classified as being unable to work, while of 404 single jobless, 314 were classified as "unemployables."

The number of married units registered last month represented the lowest monthly total recorded since the rolls were established in 1932.

The figure of 460 was six lower than the 466 listed in April of this year and 273 below the May, 1937, total of 733.

A drop of six was also shown in the single division in comparison with April, the totals being 404 against 410 and 39 below May of last year when the aggregate was 443.

Of the combined totals of married and single cases, totaling 864 for May, 523 were listed as unemployable. The latter figure was just one less than that for April but virtually twice as many as the 264 classed "unemployables" in the month of February, prior to the introduction of the most recent government rulings on that type of case.

MARRIAGE ACT MEETING SET

The special committee appointed by Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, to consider revision of British Columbia's marriage law will meet in Vancouver July 11 to receive written briefs and hear representations, it was announced at the Legislative Buildings.

Scope of the committee's work has been now boiled down to four main points, as follows: (1) The definition of qualification of those permitted to solemnize marriage; (2) The various types of marriages (by license, banns and civil contract); (3) The advisability of the adoption of some form of medical examination before marriage.

No public hearing of the committee has been fixed for Victoria yet, but if there are sufficient people wishing to make representations here it will probably be arranged, Dr. H. E. Young, chairman, said.

CHIANG'S ARMY STATED SHORT OF MUNITIONS

Japanese Bring Up Heavy Artillery and Occupation of Lanfeng on Lunghai Railway Seems Imminent, Say Observers; Nipponese Manoeuvring for Big Drive on Hankow, China's Provisional Capital

SHANGHAI (AP) — China's army appeared to be weakening again Friday before continuous artillery and aviation attacks on the central China front, where Japanese are driving toward Kaifeng and Chengchow Pass preparatory to a gigantic offensive south along the Peiping-Hankow railway against Hankow, China's provisional capital.

Chinese reports from Hankow admitted he situation was becoming critical at Lanfeng, station on the Lunghai railway and a key city in the Chengchow drive.

Foreign military observers reported evidences that the Chinese were running short of heavy munitions, having lost a considerable amount in the fall of Suchow.

BIG GUNS USED

Heavy Japanese artillery was emplaced against Chinese entrenchments around Lanfeng Friday, and Japanese occupation of that city appeared imminent.

Japanese said air observations showed large columns of Chinese were retreating west of Kaifeng, and it was believed the defending army was conserving dwindling resources for a bitter fight there and at Chengchow.

Bombers Kill Many at Canton

HONGKONG (AP) — Japanese bombing planes killed 50 persons in a Canton textile factory Friday and caused a great loss of life among houseboat dwellers along the Canton River.

The factory was crowded with workers when two bombs struck the building.

The attackers also bombed the vicinity of the Tajshatau railway station, where many refugees were encamped. The station was not hit.

(The raid was another of the series that began last Saturday in which a total of 1,000 civilians are estimated to have been killed and 1,500 wounded).

Gen. Itagaki New War Minister of Japan

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—The appointment of Lieut.-Gen. Seishiro Itagaki as Minister of War was finally announced today along with the appointment of the outgoing minister, Gen. Hajime Sugiyama, to the Supreme War Council. Itagaki's appointment completes changes made in the cabinet last week which placed five key cabinet posts in the hands of three general and two admirals.

The transient said he was John Green, 19, of Topeka, Kas.

Tourist Cars Are Flocking To City

3,891 Cars Carrying 9,620 Passengers Handled Here This Year to Date

Indicative of a record tourist travel season, figures released today by the customs department show that during the five months ending May 31, 3,891 automobiles carrying 9,620 passengers were handled through the ports of Victoria and Sidney.

This shows a big advance over the same period last year when 3,167 cars and 7,565 passengers were handled.

Of the above total, 2,584 foreign licensed cars carrying 6,298 passengers, were handled compared with last year up to this time, when 2,016 cars and 4,757 passengers, an increase of 27¾ per cent in cars and 32 1-3 in passengers were counted.

Canadian cars also show a considerable increase. In the same period this year 1,307 cars carrying 3,322 passengers were handled, compared with 1,151 cars and 2,808 passengers, an increase of 13½ per cent in cars and 18 1-3 per cent in passengers.

"This is almost an all-time record for early travel, particularly from distant points," said George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, commenting on the car tourist figures this morning. "California travel has not really started yet, although there have been 250 cars from the Golden state to date."

Pointing to the long distances traveled by cars coming from 33 different states to Vancouver Island, Mr. Warren said that 11 had come here from New York, four from New Jersey, two from Florida, one each from North and South Carolina, five from Pennsylvania and three from Massachusetts. Five had entered from Hawaii, one from Great Britain and two from Mexico.

Francoists Report Important Gain

Claim Way Opened For Attacks on Highway to Valencia

HENDAYE (AP)—Insurgents declared today they had broken the Spanish government's stubborn defence line west of Albocacer, opening the way for attacks from three directions on the coastal highway reaching south to Valencia.

Despite tenacious government resistance, Gen. Miguel Aranda's Galicians captured the mountain positions of Villar de Canes and Torre de Embesora, establishing a semi-circle of three miles radius about Albocacer. Both positions are west and south of the beleaguered town.

Albocacer has been the stronghold to the west of Alcala de Chivert which has defied efforts of insurgents to advance southward to Valencia since they cut government Spain in two April 15 with the capture of Vinaroz.

The fall of Albocacer, which insurgents once claimed to have taken on April 20, would probably mean a collapse of the entire government coastal line and give insurgents two broad highroads down which to hammer toward Valencia — the coastal highway and the Teruel-Valencia road.

SLUM CLEARANCE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Senate approved an additional $300,000,000 for slum clearance today. The authorization was written into the administration lending - spending bill, raising the measure's total to $3,722,000,000.

University Head In Favor Of Exams

Chancellor McKechnie Opposed to B.C. Governments New Accrediting Scheme

VANCOUVER (CP)—Chancellor R. E. McKechnie of the University of British Columbia today said he was not in favor of the British Columbia government's new scheme for permitting high schools students to qualify for university entrance without writing examinations.

"I know that some brilliant students simply crumple up in examinations and fail when they ought to pass," he said, "but the number affected that way is not large.

"Personally, I do not think any better system for promotions than examinations has been devised."

Chancellor McKechnie said the scheme for promotions on basis of the students' work through the year "leaves the way open for favoritism."

"A teacher can recommend a favorite pupil whether he deserves it or not," he said.

Miss A. B. Jamieson, member of the City School Board and of the U.B.C. board of governors, said she was "heartily in approval" of the new promotion policy.

"Examinations have developed largely into a matter of cramming," she said. "Under the system of recommendation announced yesterday by Dr. Weir (Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education) a student will have to maintain a fairly high standard throughout the year. But it will require very careful supervision until it is well established."

The scheme would permit principals of "accredited" high schools to recommend students for university entrance. Forty per cent of students in the graduating year could be promoted in this way.

High schools of four rooms might obtain the "accredited" standing, and smaller schools if their staff showed "exceptional merit."

Big Sawmill Destroyed; Hope For Rain as They Fight Flames

EDMONTON (CP) — Destruction of the Buffalo Lakes lumber mill, the largest lumber mill in the Burnt Hills district north of Grande Prairie, was reported today as forest and bush fires continued throughout northern Alberta, unchecked by rain. No estimate of the loss could be obtained immediately.

News came of a new forest fire at Park Creek, 13 miles north of Whitecourt, menacing 5,000,000 feet of timber in a limit. More men were rushed into service by forest rangers at Whitecourt to combat the fresh flames.

A stubborn fire at Hash Lake, 80 miles northwest of Whitecourt, still raged today and more men and supplies were sent over the rough country to the isolated spot. Some of the crew fighting the McLeod Lake fire, 10 miles northwest of Whitecourt, were sent to Hash Lake.

principles by my bank account and how they affect it," he added.

"The Globe and Mail has not replied to my statements regarding its being the mouthpiece of private interests which are trying to destroy public ownership.

"This committee might perform a public service if it inquired into the agreement or arrangement or understanding with regard to Beauharnois or other power which accompanied the transfer of the Mail and Empire to the Globe, and determining whether there was any understanding when Mr. McCullagh purchased this paper from one of the power magnates that he should carry on the job."

"This is not the place for that," interjected Attorney-General Gordon Conant, committee chairman.

AT WEEK-END

The week-end prior to Mr. Hepburn's request for Mr. Roebuck's resignation the Premier had spent with Mr. McCullagh and Bethune Smith, Mr. Roebuck testified. He understood Bethune Smith at that time was treasurer of the Ontario Liberal Party.

"Mr. McCullagh was in the Premier's office when he wrote the letter asking for my resignation," Mr. Roebuck remarked.

The former Attorney-General repeated his belief, expressed yesterday, that he was not asked to resign in April, 1937, because of his disagreement with the Premier over Mr. Hepburn's stand against the Committee for Industrial Organization in the Oshawa strike of automobile workers.

While he did not subscribe to the Premier's anti-C.I.O. policy, he had made no public statement on the matter and had taken no action.

BEAUHARNOIS

Mr. R. Conant mentioned that in none of the correspondence relating to the dismissal was there any reference to any other issue than the C.I.O.

"My dismissal was the result of a coming agreement with Beauharnois," declared Mr. Roebuck.

Mr. Clark mentioned that Mr. Roebuck was given the opportunity of remaining on the Hydro Commission when he resigned as Attorney-General.

"Why did you not accept that, remain on the Hydro Commission and defy the Premier to enter into a new agreement with Beauharnois?" he asked.

"I felt that I could be of more use off Hydro than on it," Mr. Roebuck replied.

Mr. Clark shouted: "I suggest you were absolutely cowardly in your attitude to Hydro. Here was your opportunity to protect Hydro if you wanted to protect it."

He had been at Niagara Falls on a vacation when the automobile workers' strike occurred in April, 1937, and the Premier had telephoned him, Mr. Roebuck related.

"I said the talk of raising an army to keep the union out sent cold shivers up my back."

The question of maintaining law and order during the strike had not been discussed.

"Was that the conference with Mr. Atkinson?" asked Provincial Secretary Harry Nixon.

"Yes, you were still there after Mr. Atkinson left."

(The reference was believed to be to Joseph E. Atkinson, publisher of the Toronto Daily Star.).

"He was the champion of the C.I.O. and bitterly opposed to the government," said Mr. Clark.

"No, he wasn't," declared Mr. Roebuck. "He was the champion of human rights and the advocate of freedom for labor . . ."

ARGUMENT RECALLED

"There was an argument between Mr. Atkinson, the Prime Minister, and the provincial secretary — and I think Mr. Leduc (Hon. Paul Leduc, Minister of Mines) also chipped in—with regard to the policy that should be followed by a Liberal government with regard to labor matters," Mr. Roebuck related.

"I said nothing, as I did not wish to appear to be on one side or the other in an argument of that kind. After Mr. Atkinson had left we continued the discussion." He said Hon. Peter Heenan, then Minister of Lands and Forests, had "expressed himself much more strongly than I did."

WRIGHT'S ATTITUDE

At yesterday's sitting of the committee, Mr. Roebuck, dealing with the demand for his resignation in December, 1936, testified: "McCullagh had said 'Mr. Wright won't stand for repudiation'."

(William H. Wright, wealthy mining man, was Mr. McCullagh's backer in the purchase of the Toronto Globe and later of the Mail and Empire, with which the Globe was merged in the Globe and Mail in December, 1936).

In a statement in reply, published this morning, Mr. McCullagh said that Mr. Roebuck's statement that William H. Wright did not approve of power contracts cancellation "is perfectly true."

Mr. Wright "felt that the ultimate act of repudiation was using sovereign power to break the word of the province of Ontario." Mr. McCullagh added: "Mr. Wright does not now own, nor ever has owned, a bond of any of the Quebec companies."

Mr. McCullagh also said he had never owned any of the Quebec companies' bonds himself.

War Bombings Of Civilians Protested

Commission Inquiry in Spain Proposed By Britain; Japan Hears Objections

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain is considering inviting other governments to join her in establishing a commission to investigate the bombings of civilian population in Spain. This disclosure was made today by Richard Butler, under-secretary for foreign affairs, in the House of Commons.

He did not specify which governments might be invited. Presumably, however, France, Italy and Germany would be included because of their close interest in the Spanish war, with the possible addition of the neutral Scandinavian states and the Netherlands.

MORE ACTION URGED

When Prime Minister Chamberlain today told the Commons of new protests against air bombings in both China and Spain, he ran into opposition demands that Great Britain do something besides "hold up its hands in horror."

The Prime Minister said the British agent at Burgos, Sir Robert Hodgson, had been instructed to express to General Franco the government's "horror" at the loss of civilian lives in the aerial bombardment of Granollers and other Spanish government towns.

France had been asked to take similar action, he added.

PROTEST AT TOKIO

The British ambassador at Tokio, Sir Robert Craigie, also has been instructed, he said, to protest urgently against "indiscriminate bombings" at Canton, China, in which the Prime Minister said 450 persons had been killed and 1,000 wounded.

U.S. DECLARATION

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States government expressed today its "emphatic reprobation" of bombings of civilian populations in China and Spain.

Under-secretary of State Sumner Welles, after a conference with President Roosevelt, issued a statement on behalf of the State Department, saying American public opinion "regards such methods as barbarous."

"He recalled that in recent days aerial bombings had caused the deaths of many hundreds of persons in Spain and China.

Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, told the House of Commons this afternoon.

W. Ross Macdonald, Liberal, Brantford, Ont., had asked if a treaty along the lines of the draft submitted this week by the United States government would be introduced in parliament this session.

"I do not expect any such speedy development," said Mr. Lapointe. "Obviously this new proposal will have to be carefully considered and submitted to the interested parties. That will require a great deal of work before a treaty can be signed."

DIVERS SEEK BODY OF BOY

But No Trace of Jimmy Cash, Kidnapped, Found in Florida Pit

PRINCETON, Fla. (AP)—Divers grouped in a rock pit 40 miles from here today for the body of kidnapped James Bailey Cash Jr., after federal agents had received a clue indicating the search there might prove productive.

A local resident whose identity the agents shielded turned in the clue. Unverified reports said it was a piece of cloth stained with blood. The divers covered every inch of the pit floor, but found no trace of the body of the five-year-old boy.

While the divers worked the federal men flung a cordon around the scene—a swamp between the overseas highway and the shore of the ocean—and kept a throng of bystanders several hundred feet away.

PLANES HUNT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy planes from the reserve aviation base at Miami, Fla., joined today in the search for kidnapped James Bailey Cash Jr.

Lieut.-Commander R. P. McConnell, commandant at Miami, notified the navy department her planes had been dispatched to assist in the search at the request of an F.B.I. official. McConnell did not disclose the number sent.

The navy said McConnell's action was approved.

Eighteen training, scouting and utility planes are based at Miami.

Canoeist Given Three Months

Man Who Said He Sailed Around Vancouver Island Will Go to Jail

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—Clarence Virgil Moorehouse, who sailed into Vancouver harbor in a dugout canoe early in May with the tale of a perilous trip around Vancouver Island, was sentenced to three months in Oakalla for theft of the canoe by Magistrate H. Boothroyd at Port Alberni today. Moorehouse pleaded guilty.

Provincial police checking up on his story, claimed they had established proof that after borrowing the canoe from John Janet, at Banfield, Moorehouse shipped it overland to Parksville. Moorehouse was much publicized following his arrival and gave one or two radio talks on his "hazardous cruise."

An old charge of false pretences was brought up against him on May 31 on which he was given suspended sentence by Magistrate H. S. Wood of Vancouver.

Provincial authorities then took him into custody.

JOBLESS AGAIN SELL TICKETS

Single Men in Vancouver Defy By-law as C.C.F. Members Confer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Single unemployed resumed their sale of baseball game tickets on downtown streets of Vancouver today as Harold Winch, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation member of the British Columbia Legislature, said his party had a "comprehensive plan" for solving the unemployment problem in the province.

Civic offcials said sale of tickets without city council permission was contrary to civic by-laws. The unemployed, however, stated their funds for food and shelter were exhausted and that the sale would continue.

Most of the men selling the tickets were members of the Relief Project Workers' Union who marched out of the Hotel Georgia last week, paid $500 by the city council to do so. Seven hundred other members of the union are still occupying ground floor lobbies of the central post office and the Civic Art Gallery.

WINDSORS NOW WED ONE YEAR

Former King and Wife Soon to Occupy House on French Riviera

ANTIBES, France (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor celebrated their first wedding anniversary today, working together on their first real home. They were so engrossed in getting the Chateau de la Croe ready to live in that they had no formal celebration.

The Duke and Duchess, living at the Grand Hotel while work on their home is being completed, drive their car a mile and a half each day to the chateau, carrying with them a picnic lunch.

The couple are seeing only a few old friends here, sticking to the "simple life" of the Riviera.

SEATTLE (AP)—Wilfred LeBoe, Canadian youth en route to his Loos, B.C., home from school, reported to police coin matching swindlers had stolen $35, his fare home, at a bus depot last night. The bunco men interested him in a matching game, he said, but didn't wait to swindle him. When he opened his purse they grabbed the money and ran.

Beatty Is Asked For Union Details

C.P.R. Requested to Tell Senators of Finance Plan Linking With C.N.R.

OTTAWA (CP) — A government request that Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, give the Senate railways committee particulars of his plan for unification of the C.P.R. and the Canadian National Railways was laid before him today.

The request was made in the committee yesterday by Senator Raoul Dandurand, government leader, as the 20-member body adjourned its study of the railway problem until June 14. Senator Dandurand said the adjournment was being made to give the Canadian National experts an opportunity to "test" submissions made by C.P.R. experts, and because the Senate and its various other committees will be tied up with other business next week.

QUESTION OF ASSETS

Senator Dandurand asked that the C.P.R. president disclose to the committee the financial particulars involved in his unification scheme. He declared the government should know what assets the C.P.R. contemplated bringing into unification and what Sir Edward considered would be an equitable distribution of the net revenues from unified operation.

In testimony before the committee Sir Edward had expressed willingness to discuss the terms of a unification agreement with the C.N. or the government. But, meanwhile, Senator Dandurand said, "he asks this committee to endorse his plan in principle, leaving the details for future contract."

Since the government would be making the greater contribution under the plan and would be putting its resources and credit behind it, the country was entitled to all features of the proposal, particularly its financial aspects.

In earlier testimony Sir Edward had refused to disclose this information, declaring it a matter for negotiation.

NEAL TESTIFIES

W. M. Neal, vice-president of the C.P.R. western lines, told the committee yesterday fears of political considerations disturbing operations of a unified railway management were not an important factor in the working out of railway economics. There had been a needless agitation of the public mind in this respect.

Part of Mr. Neal's evidence related to estimates of savings compiled by various officers of the C.P.R. Mr. Neal revised those estimates in some particulars, reducing them by $4,801,000. Against this, however, he placed additional economies developed out of features not included in the original set up, to the extent of $9,056,000.

Taking everything into consideration, he said there was no reason to feel economies that could be effected under the C.P.R.'s plan of joint management would be less than the original estimate of $75,000,000.

If all the economies possible under unification had been applied to the 1937 level of expenditures and revenues, the estimate of $75,000,000 would be reduced to $59,740,000, Mr. Neal said.

Mr. Neal's evidence wound up the company's submissions.

Thows Brick At No 10 Downing St.

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Douglas John Hardon, 19, was released on probation today after being found guilty of wilfully throwing a brick at the door of No. 10 Downing Street, residence of Prime Minister Chamberlain, causing damage to the extent of £10 ($50).

The brick bore the words "Social Credit is the only remedy."

A. E. STONE DIES

WINDSOR, Ont (CP) — Stricken with typhoid fever two months ago, Captain Albert Rendle Stone, 35, former British vice-consul in Detroit, died in a hospital yesterday despite three blood transfusions from fellow officers of the Essex Scottish Regiment, Windsor. Capt. Stone lived in Vancouver for several years.

Dump Penalties Removed By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The treasury revoked yesterday a group of dumping penalties which had applied to Canadian wheat flour and a number of products from other countries.

Officials said there had been no dumping of the products for more than five years. The penalties were extra tariff duties equal to the amount of subsidy involved in the dumping.

Products from which the dumping penalties were removed included:

Canada, wheat flour, fountain syringes; Province of British Columbia, sheating paper and felt roofing.

Ford Foresees Prosperity Era

Despite Claim Finance Group Seeking War, U.S. Industrialist Predicts Gains

DETROIT (AP)—In his first statement on public affairs since he returned home from a recent eastern trip that took him to Washington as a White House visitor, Henry Ford said in an interview today that nothing has happened in recent weeks to change his conviction that "we are going to have the greatest era of prosperity and happiness we have ever known."

Mr. Ford sat astride a bench in the mess hall of a boys' farm camp, not far from his home in Dearborn, and pointing toward the nearly 300 acres under cultivation by the young farmers, said: "And it will come through a back-to-the-land movement."

Mr. Ford reiterated his criticism of "certain financial interests" in the United States which, he said, would like to bring about another war.

"Somebody once said that 60 families have directed the destinies of the nation," he said. "It might well be said that if somebody would focus the spotlight on 25 persons who handle the nation's finances, the world's real war makers would be brought into bold relief."

The motorcar manufacturer said veterans of the Great War would have an increasing part in shaping the future of the affairs of the United States. He charged once more that some financial interests "seek to control food prices."

Mr. Ford said there was nothing about his recent visit to Wall Street to see J. P. Morgan that was inconsistent with his opposition to "certain financial interests."

"There is a constructive and a destructive Wall Street," he said. "The House of Morgan represents the constructive. I have known Mr. Morgan for many years. He backed and supported Thomas Edison, who was also my good friend."

READY TO PRODUCE TRACTOR

Asserting he was now ready to swing into volume of production of his low-cost tractor, Mr. Ford explained again his opposition to the philosophy of limited farm production. This, he charged, was inspired by financial interests "to whom profit meant more than human well-being."

"Out of this philosophy of limiting the output of the soil," he said, "come wars, and if these financiers had their own way we'd be in a war now. They want war because they make money out of such conflict—out of the human misery that wars bring."

Reiterating his conviction that low-cost tools are the farmers' chief need at the moment, Mr. Ford said he had his new tractor ready for production. "I've worked harder on the tractor in the last year than I ever worked on anything in my life," he said.

He denied any intention of sacrificing production of automobiles in favor of the tractor, but said the tractor was ready for assembly line work.

MINER LOSES LIFE

SUDBURY (CP) — Julian Marusi, 43, was killed instantly in an accident in the Frood Mine today and his helper, Tauri Nauhu of Sudbury, suffered a fracture of one ankle. Mauris was believed to have drilled into a hole where a stick of dynamite had been missed.

Anthem Flurry In South Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa (CP-Reuters) — Controversy which flared over the omission of the singing of God Save the King at Union Day ceremonies May 31 caused Richard Stuttaford, Minister of the Interior, to submit his resignation, subsided last night after a government statement had been issued giving equal status to the National Anthem and "Die Stem Van Suid Afrika."

Mr. Stuttaford thereupon withdrew his resignation.

LOAN PLANS ARE APPROVED

Commons Gives Second Reading to Bill to Aid Municipalities

OTTAWA (CP) — Without a dissenting vote the House of Commons yesterday passed through second reading Hon. Charles Dunning's bill to authorize low-interest loans to municipalities for self-liquidating projects.

Loans up to a maximum of $30,000,000 to be divided between municipalities on the basis of their population and bearing interest at 2 per cent may be made under the Finance Minister's bill. Conditions are that the proceeds be used to finance projects which will pay for themselves and that the provincial governments undertake to guarantee repayment of principal and interest.

Mr. Dunning said if any amendments could be suggested which would make it unnecessary for the legislatures to be called in special session to authorize borrowing by municipalities or guarantees by provincial governments he would welcome them.

A display of old-time political oratory was given by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, who said the government was to blame for delay in bringing down even "the first installment" of its policy on employment.

That one installment was so framed "that unless action is taken by the legislatures it will not be effective."

Mr. Dunning said that was not so, but Mr. Bennett insisted it was.

Would Tighten Fire Inspection

Vancouver Jury Finds Deaths of Three Japanese Were Accident

VANCOUVER (CP)—The coroner's jury which investigated the deaths of three Japanese children in an east-end tenement fire early last Tuesday returned a verdict of accidental death yesterday, but recommended more rigid and complete fire inspection of such premises should be made.

The recommendation added that buildings so inspected should either be licensed to operate as rooming houses, or condemned.

The verdict came after Captain Edward Arratt, district fire chief, said wired windows and a locked door had blocked the escape of Yoshikasu Ono, six, from the tenement basement, where his body was found.

The other two victims, George Tanigugchi, 12, and Taizo Isotani, 15, were found burned to death on the second floor.

Capt. Arratt said the fire raged so fiercely that rescue of the occupants was impossible.

Sectionalism Is Scored By Cahan

OTTAWA (CP)—The political and economic welfare of Canada cannot be conserved by promoting exclusively the interests of one section or one community, Hon. C. H. Cahan, M.P. for St Lawrence-St. George, Montreal, former Secretary of State in the Bennett Government, told the annual banquet of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here last night.

"The economic independence of any section, group or class in a country of continental proportions such as this Canada of ours, is the unrealizable dream of inexperienced enthusiasts," said Mr. Cahan.

"No section can suffer without serious detriment to the whole body politic; no single group may seek its selfish aims nor its sole aggrandizement except to the prejudice and permanent injury of every component part of our people."

He said that while there were obvious indications of natural growth and development in Canada, there were recurring evidances of disunion and disruption which were becoming more clearly apparent.

Mr. Cahan stated his opposition to state intervention in business and industry.

VANCOUVER DEATH

VANCOUVER (CP) — George Irwin, 55, complained of feeling ill after working in his garden yesterday and collapsed and died shortly after entering the house. Death was attributed to natural causes.

The Victoria Ministerial Association will hold its final meeting for the season Monday next at 10 in the Y.W.C.A. The officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting.

Red Cross Head Dies In East

Dr. J. L. Biggar Succumbs in Toronto After Lengthy Illness

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. J. L. Biggar, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross Society, died here Wednesday after an illness of several months. He had just passed his 60th birthday.

Dr. Biggar served in the South African and Great Wars and prior to 1914 practiced medicine at Toronto, Edmonton and Victoria, B.C.

Reaffirm Stand Against Divorce

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Official hostility of the Church of England to divorce has been redefined.

A resolution adopted last night by the Convocation of Canterbury—the general assembly of the church in session here—defined marriage as "the personal union of one man with one woman, exclusive of all others on either side and indissoluble save by death."

For Civil Liberties

TO ALL WHO BELIEVE IN THE MAINtenance of civil liberties, nothing recently has been more encouraging than the uncompromising stand taken by the Canadian Legion in its presentation before the Rowell Commission.

Made by Col. C. Basil Price as Legion spokesman, it proposed a constitutional declaration of rights fundamental to Canadian citizenship, "in particular, those rights which ensure civil and religious liberty, free speech, free assembly, a free press and, more important of all, an independent judiciary with right of free access to our courts."

The need of such a constitutional declaration in Canada, similar to the one in the United States constitution, was first emphasized by Mr. John M. Imrie of the Edmonton Journal. Without it, there is for the citizen of Canada no assurance that what were once recognized as his inalienable rights will be preserved from further encroachment.

Today in parts of Canada free speech and free assembly are denied, freedom of the press curbed; we see government restricting radio discussion to what is in line with official policy, barring from Canada books because they are not approved of by some group or another, Legislatures lightly passing measures to take away from the individual his right of free access to the courts—and against all this the citizen has no recourse.

If we are to preserve a vigorous, healthy and well-balanced democracy, there must be a check to this process of gradual nazification of our institutions. The contribution of the Canadian Legion to this end of preserving our civil liberties is in the best British tradition.

Principle vs. Practice

ATTENTION HAS BEEN DRAWN TO the fact that in San Francisco this week leaders of the business community and of the C.I.O. will hold a mass meeting to see if some peaceable and mutually profitable way of getting along together cannot be found.

The background of that meeting is interesting. The last four years of San Francisco's "labor history" have been more than a little stormy; so this spring a group of industrial leaders appointed a committee to study industrial relations and work out a program to restore and preserve peace. This committee, after much preliminary work, invited the labor leaders to join in creating a "parliament" of public opinion to minimize bitterness and strife. At first the labor people were suspicious; but the suspicion disappeared and now we have the unusual and highly gratifying spectacle of C.I.O. bigwigs sitting down with industrial bigwigs to work out some plan by which capital and labor can get along and prosper together.

What will come of this meeting is, of course, open to speculation. Perhaps the whole plan will fall through, and San Francisco's valiant effort to obtain a fair peace will come to nothing. But the important thing is that the effort is at least being made.

Yet it is strange, when we stop to think, that the fact that this effort is being made should be news. These San Franciscans, after all, are doing nothing more than acting on a principle we all give lip-service to—the principle that capital and labor are going in the same direction and can help each other get there. If that principle is true, as we all say it is, why are there not more movements like this? Would the future not be immeasurably brighter in many other ways, as well, if we could live up to our principles instead of merely talking about them?

They Remember

TWENTY YEARS AGO LAST JANUARY the German cruiser Breslau sank in a minefield in the Aegean Sea. Very near the day of the last anniversary a British mariner, Captain Ohlenschlager — whose name will always be associated with the sinking of that then enemy, cruiser—was born to his grave in a coffin on which had been placed a floral tribute from Germany. The Frankfurter Zeitung records the incident and relates the following narrative which has caused the name of Ohlenschlager to be remembered by those most grateful to him. It reads:

The Breslau was at that time called the Midilli and was in the service of the Turks, after having fought her way, with the cruiser Goeben, through the chain of enemy warships in the Straits of Messina and finally reached Turkish harbour. On January 20, 1918, she was on a reconnaissance expedition when she ran on a mine and quickly sank. Rescue by her own boats was impossible.

At that time Lieutenant Ohlenschlager was in command of a British auxiliary vessel. He observed the sinking of the enemy, with whom he had so often been in combat and who was now incapable of resistance. Without hesitation, and without being deterred by the danger to his own ship and the lives of his crew, Ohlenschlager proceeded into the minefield, and rescued 162 German sailors. He saved human beings in need, although a short while before, when they were able to fight, they were his enemies, and he did it at the risk of his life.

Is the concept "chivalry" rich enough in meaning to describe the behavior of this English naval officer? His fatherland esteemed his deed highly, and, even in wartime, rewarded him with an order of distinction for having risked his life to rescue the enemy. It is reported that he preferred wearing this medal to any of the others which he received; but now a wreath of fresh flowers on his grave bears witness that this man received a still higher distinction—the enduring gratitude of the German men whose lives he saved. And though these flowers from Germany will wither, the memory of fathers and sons will guard the knowledge of a deed that in the midst of the bloodiest of all wars bore witness to the power of the ideal of noble humanity.

It is reminders such as this that bring home—or it ought to—to normal human beings the futility, brutality, stupidity, and costliness of war. The men who fight one another have no quarrel. The soldier, the sailor, the aviator, no matter what his nationality, are the Ohlenschlagers and the "fathers" and "sons" who were concerned with the fate of the Breslau and the sequel. Perhaps, one of these days, they will tell governments of all stripes that they will fight no more. Today's world-wide madness may be the forerunner of the call for a halt that is long overdue. It may come sooner than many expect—and from quarters as yet unsuspected of ordinary human instincts.

Misleading Tax Comparison

EVERY TIME A CHANGE IS ANnounced in the British income tax rate, Canadian newspapers follow up the report with a news story presenting a comparison with the Canadian income tax rate. The impression conveyed to the reader is that the Canadian taxpayer gets off many times lighter than the Britisher. But the comparison is misleading, because it is inadequate in that it presents only part of the Canadian picture. In Britain there is only one income-taxing power; in most parts of Canada there are two, because provinces levy income tax; and in some places three, because some cities levy taxes on income of their citizens. Also, Britain raises a greater proportion of her revenue by direct income tax than does Canada, which resorts to more indirect taxation.

We have referred to this before and the editor of Maclean's Magazine now takes it up. He points to the recent Ottawa dispatch which sets out that a Canadian married man, with wife and one child and an income of $2,500, would pay a Dominion income tax of $3; whereas, if he lived in Britain, he would under the new scale pay $92.62. But actually, when all taxes are considered, the comparison does not favor Canadians to the extent indicated. For, in addition to the absence of provincial taxes in Britain, taxes on Canadian homes are about double the British rates. Also, there is no sales tax in Britain. "If the Canadian who pays only $3 income tax were to keep track of every dollar he spent last year on commodities and figure what the invisible 8 per cent sales tax cost him, he would get a shock," Maclean's adds.

As the Financial Post points out, the Dominion, provincial and municipal governments in Canada spend about $90 per capita per year. Central and local governments in Britain spend about $106 per capita per year. But as Britain's national income is 20 per cent greater per capita than Canada's, Canadians really are more heavily taxed.

Water Bills

FAILURE OF THE CITY COUNCIL TO announce a definite date for putting into effect the system of collecting water bills every two months instead of every month as at present, may be a hopeful sign that further consideration is being given to possible obstructions to the change.

Although water bills are comparatively small in the scale of the family budget, making payments easier instead of more difficult should be a policy in city affairs. From a bookkeeping angle, too, monthly bills are a general custom. Arrears in collection of water bills would become a larger problem under the two-month system. Users of water might also feel justified in demanding that the service charge be cut in half if the change is put into effect.

A Hollywood spy advises that Miss Theda Bara has never abandoned her dream of a film comeback. As a revamp, we assume.

THIS HAPPENED IN CANADA

From Ottawa Journal

"It couldn't happen here!"

Couldn't it?

On Saturday, in Montreal, Provincial Police requested that the name of the Young Communist League be suppressed during all proceedings of the Model Youth Legislature, sponsored by the Montreal Youth Congress. The request was solemnly laid before the Youth Legislature Cabinet by two provincial detectives. The Montreal Gazette reports the "Prime Minister" of the congress, J. D. Ralph, as saying:

"The penalty for not complying with this order has not been stated officially. However, in the words of the officer himself: 'The customary procedure is to padlock the establishment should the order not be obeyed'."

The Gazette reports Superintendent Redmond Roche of the Provincial Police as confirming that the detectives had been sent to the congress, that they had asked suppression of references to the Young Communist League, and had "generally warned" the Youth Legislature leaders against permitting any of its speakers to make statements that might be considered Communistic or subversive.

The whole business, of course, sounds ridiculous. Yet it is the story of Fascism that it mixes the ridiculous with the autocratic; that what at first seems hopelessly stupid or a joke becomes more than a joke in the end. There was a time, in Germany, when they laughed at Hitler.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

CHEMICAL REACTION

IT SEEMS THAT irresponsible persons like me, who have suggested that the money spent on liquor here goes out of British Columbia, are all wrong. Three dollars out of every four spent on liquor stays in the province, according to an interesting calculation just completed by the Liquor Board.

The calculation shows that liquor, after all, is perfectly sound business and that the $18,000,000 we spent on it in the last fiscal year is as productive as any other similar sum. Perhaps if we hadn't spent $18,000,000 on liquor, we would have hung on to the money and kept it in a hole in the back yard, drying up the stream of business. Then again, perhaps not. We might have spent it on groceries, movies or blondes.

Which produces the most social usefulness, groceries, movies or blondes, is a matter for the economists to determine, but British Columbians evidently think liquor gives them the most excitement for their money.

A few old-fashioned persons may be pardoned for believing that $18,000,000 spent on groceries, blondes, or on road building or on the beautification of cities or the clearance of slums or even on the provision of milk for underfed babies might be more useful than $18,000,000 spent on liquor. But governments must have revenues and they can get them painlessly by selling as much liquor as possible, taking 33 cents out of every dollar you spend for drink. Thus they are able, by persuading you to drink whisky, to get money to buy milk for underfed babies.

This transmutation of whisky into milk is justly considered one of the great chemical triumphs of the age. Yet somehow it seems unnecessarily laborious and indirect. Cows have done the job much more simply in the past, but under our present economic arrangements it is often impossible to bring the baby and the cow together. It is necessary that thousands of rich British Columbians get plastered with fair regularity so that innocent infants may get vitamins.

The latest figures from the Liquor Board show that British Columbians are rallying around, as they always do in a crisis. An appeal for the babies never goes unheeded. And, incidentally, of course, the patriots got quite a lot of fun for their $18,000,000. Let no one in future suggest that it is not sound business for a government to press liquor upon its people.

HORRID IDEA

M. ANDRE MAUROIS, the noble French writer, has lately written a novel which suggests a delightful fancy. In his book some fellow discovers a method of revealing the public mind, as if by television. Suddenly everyone's thoughts are known to everyone else in the world. As you would expect, the result is so appalling that the machines have to be destroyed and people go back to the present arrangement under which every mind is closed, in all essential things, to every other mind in the world.

It is an intriguing thought. Just imagine, for a moment, what your own mind would look like if it were exposed to public view. Probably it would be a much more grisly sight than your figure in a bathing suit on the first day of the swimming season before it had got tanned and still glistened, white and onion-like. Probably if the minds of our most eminent citiens were turned inside out it would be a spectacle more disagreeable than the family wash hanging on the line. Probably if the minds of the world's rulers were exhibited on a television machine there would be revolution and chaos everywhere.

I mean to say, when an aged senator is seen in a photograph pondering the Canadian railway problem, he looks pretty impressive. It would only undermine democratic government if his mind were photographed and were found to contain pictures of Madeline Carrol and Myrna Loy and an assorted collection of bathing beauties. A great parliamentarian brooding in the House of Commons over his country's ills is a magnificent sight from the galleries, but if you could see inside him and find he was brooding over the oysters he ate in the Chateau for lunch, or over the prospect of a steak for dinner, you would not vote for him again.

And most likely if you knew what your friends were thinking you would not speak to them again, for they carry around with them the same secret freight of intellectual garbage that you do. Often you may read this column and think that the writer must be a queer but harmless sort of fellow, but if you could witness the mental processes behind the words recorded here most likely you would petition the City Council to lock me up as dangerous to the state.

Indeed, if you could see inside the City Council mind which could find satisfaction in a certain monument on Pandora Avenue, the mental stagnation which could tolerate the perpetration of such a thing, then undoubtedly you would rush, screaming, out of the city and into the clean woods.

So it is just as well that no one has invented a mental television machine. If such a device is developed the extinction of the human race by mass homicide will become inevitable. Yet in the end, if a few people survive, it may be a good thing. After a season of horror, men would have to clean out their minds and become honest if their thoughts were known to their neighbors. Honesty would be a fearful shock at first, would undoubtedly wreck our present social order, but in the end it might prove to be quite pleasant. But this is pure speculation, of course, because honesty has never been tried anywhere yet.

Horoscope for today: The ascendancy of Jupiter in the house of Leo indicates thrift. Men born on this day will suffer when they get the bills for stuff bought by their wives.

Correct this sentence: "The feature wasn't so hot," said the movie patron, "but I enjoyed the half-hour of previews."

PITY THE POOR PEERS!

From London Spectator

The reform of the House of Lords was declared an urgent matter by Mr. Asquith in 1909, and there is every sign that it will be still urgent and unaccomplished in 1990. But even if major changes are shelved it is really astonishing that free citizens of this country are compelled to sit in the upper chamber against their will—or, at any rate, prevented from sitting in the lower because they are qualified for the upper.

Within the past week the successful Parliamentary careers of Mr. Ormsby-Gore and Lord Hartington are, if not ended, seriously checked because one in the course of nature has become Lord Harlech and the other the Duke of Devonshire. I believe Lord Astor, who was an M.P. when he succeeded to his father's title, made searching investigations to see if it was not possible for him to stay where he was, but, of course, he had to cross the lobby. Common sense would suggest that a man should be free not to take his seat in the Lords, but be elected to, and sit in, the House of Commons.

The present system is fair neither to Parliament, which sees good men excluded against their will from the more important chamber, nor to the individuals concerned, who know that a successful political career is rarely made in the Lords.

Better English

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "He is stopping at the Empire Hotel."

2. What is the correct pronunciation of "ermine"?

3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Four-in-hand, fourteen, fourtieth.

4. What does the word "halcyon" (adjective) mean?

5. What is a word beginning with inc that means "harsh; severe; tempestuous"?

ANSWERS

1. Say, "He is staying at the Empire Hotel." 2. Pronounce ur-min, u as in fur, i as in in. 3. Fortieth. 4. Calm; peaceful; happy. "Deep, halcyon repose." —De Quincey. 5. Inclement.

I.O.D.E. Head Makes Plea To Club

Vancouver Canadian Club Urged To Aid New Canadians

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. W. G. Lumbers of Toronto, national president of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, yesterday appealed before the Women's Canadian Club for help and sympathy for new Canadians.

The luncheon meeting she addressed was the last social function for delegates to the seven-day I.O.D.E. convention which ended her yesterday.

The luncheon meeting she addressed was the last social function for delegates to the seven-day I.O.D.E. convention which ended here yesterday.

"There is a great diversity of opinion concerning our new Canadians," Mrs. Lumbers said. "Some think they become naturalized to get the vote, go on relief or get old-age pensions.

"We have a great opportunity to teach new Canadians the ideals of British citizenship. You on the Pacific coast have an acute problem.

"Why not start with the little Japanese children? Instead of trying to segregate them, try to do something about it."

Mrs. Lumbers said it was natural for newcomers' hearts to be where they were born, and it was natural they should honor their own flag. But Canadians should urge such people to assimilate themselves into the life of Canada.

"Above all, impress upon them them that they must teach their children to honor the Union Jack," she said.

Mrs. Lumbers' offered Women's Canadian Clubs throughout Canada the co-operation of the I.O.D.E. in such real Canadianization work.

Salt Spring Island

A party of the Farmers' Institute, Ganges, visited the Experimental Farm at Saanich Monday, where, under the auspices of the Field Crop Union a talk on soils was given by J. B. Munro, Deputy Minister of Agriculture of B.C.

Miss N. Thompson of Victoria is spending a month on Salt Spring Island, the guest of Mrs. W. Harvey, Central Settlement.

Planning Fair

Miss Peggy White is the convener of the Country Fair to be held by the Anglican Young People's Association in the Memorial Hall on June 15. Features being planned by her committee include stalls of all sorts, sideshows, afternoon tea and a dance in the evening. The fair is being held to raise funds for delegates attending the provincial A.Y.P.A. conference in the fall.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. May a woman send flowers to a man she knows who is ill?

2. Should house guests be called for breakfast?

3. Are high heels correct for school wear?

4. If a date has been made some time in advance, should the man call the girl again on the day before or on the day of the event?

5. Should a man consult the wishes of his "date" before he arranges for another couple to join them?

What would you do if—

You are a girl who has kept a man waiting after he arrives for a date? When you are finally ready—

(a) Say nothing in explanation?

(b) Apologize at length?

(c) Explain simply the delay and say "I'm sorry"?

Answers

1. Yes, but only when he is seriously ill.

2. Only if they have asked to be.

3. No.

4. Yes, it is the best way to avoid a misunderstanding.

5. It would be considerate.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—(c).

SOCIETY

Miss Ruth Windau will leave for Vancouver tonight to be bridesmaid to Miss Marian Hall at her wedding to Mr. Frank McLaughlin.

The following members of the Hard-of-hearing Club, left this afternoon for Vancouver to attend a convention of the Canadian Federation of Lip-reading Organizations: Mrs. B. C. Combe, Mrs. W. H. Routledge, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Shaw, Mr. B. S. H. Tye, Mr. W. D. Kennedy, Mr. K. T. Hughes, Mr. H. M. S. Cotter, Miss Reta Carveth, Mrs. T. C. Burley, Mrs. F. L. Beavan, Miss L. Orman, Mrs. A. Welman, Mr. Fred Y. McKee, Miss L. Dodimead, Mrs. C. H. Friberg, Mrs. Walter Harris, Miss Edith Sexton, Miss Queenie Prior, Mrs. A. Brenton, Mr. C. P. Jones and Mr. M. McKay.

In honor of Miss Ida Bond, a June bride-to-be, Mrs. E. Parsons was hostess at her home at Ganges on Wednesday afternoon at a miscellaneous shower. Thirty guests were present. For the occasion the rooms were beautifully decorated by friends in a color scheme of yellow and silver, using roses, lupines, carnations and foliage. The gifts were presented to the guest of honor in a large covered wagon done in yellow and silver, drawn by two dainty little tots, Jacqueline Lumley and Shirley Wagg, dressed in pretty costumes of silver grey. A bouquet of roses was presented by little Barbara Goodman. Tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Donald Goodman.

Mrs. F. W. L. Moore, 3249 Quadra Street, was hostess on Wednesday evening at a kitchen shower for Miss Pat Hemberow, who will be married next month. Many useful presents were given and were presented to the bride-to-be by Margaret and Eleanor Leslie-Melville. The Misses Flo Partington, Peggy Cullen and May Moore served refreshments, and musical items were given by the Misses Peggy Walton and Ailsa Braidwood, and recitations by Miss Hazel Wright. Others present were: Mesdames R. Hemberow, E. Tildesley, Rotherham, Leslie-Melville and the Misses Foggo, Gladys Bayley, Barbara Cockburn, Barbara and Pat Riden, Brenda Stoneham, Georgina Wilson, Jean McLaurin, Eleanor Smith, Margaret Whyte and Cicely Robinson.

Members of the Victoria Music Teachers' Federation met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Cox on Wednesday evening to honor Mr. and Mrs. W. Boulter, married recently. Mrs. Boulter, who as Miss Nora Sherwood was for many years secretary of the association, was presented with an inscribed silver tray. An impromptu program was presented during the evening, with piano solos by Miss Una Calvert and Miss Gwen Harper; dramatic readings by Miss Enid Cole, and violin solos by Miss Dorothy Francis. There were several numbers by a rhythmic band. Musical competitions were held, in which the prizes were won by Miss Pike and Mr. Boulter. A buffet supper was served, the table being centred with the bride's cake. Mrs. Jameson and Mrs. Wickett poured the tea and coffee.

Mrs. Malcolm Taylor of Qualicum Beach, the former Miss Peggy Creed, was honored at a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Vera Ferriday at her home on Foul Bay Road on Wednesday evening. The gifts were contained in a hat box decorated with mauve and yellow crepe paper. Prize winners in games played during the evening were Miss Edna Creed and Miss Jean McKay. Supper was served from a table decorated with mauve and yellow streamers, mauve and yellow irises and yellow candles in silver holders. Mrs. H. Jarvis and Mrs. S. Creed presided at the supper. The guests were Mrs. T. Brown, Mrs. Creed, Mrs. Jarvis, Mrs. A. Taylor, Mrs. E. Ferriday, Mrs. B. Holland, Mrs. C. Hickman, Mrs. W. E. Ferriday, Mrs. G. Collin and the Misses Lillian Hislop, Eva Holland, Edna Creed, Jean McKay, Joan Jarvis and Carrie Ferriday.

KOKSILAH W.I.

A meeting of the Koksilah branch of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. J. Evans on Wednesday afternoon, with 20 members present. Mrs. J. H. Gibson presided. The convener, Mrs. J. Robson, reported the sum of $73.35 taken at the dance on May 20. The money will be held towards a hall fund. Plans were made for an institute picnic this summer and for a card party this month. A collection was taken for ice cream for the school closing picnic and it was decided to have a stall at the annual King's Daughters' Hospital bazaar.

The monthly meeting of Gonzales Chapter, I.O.D.E., will be held on Tuesday afternoon at headquarters at 2.

Grace Cromie Becomes Bride

VANCOUVER — Dr. and Mrs. John Andrew Wright were on a California honeymoon today following their marriage on Wednesday at St. Mary's Anglican Church.

Seven hundred guests attended the ceremony at which Grace Anne Cromie, only daughter of Mrs. Cromie and the late Robert James Cromie, former publisher of the Vancouver Sun, became the bride of Dr. Wright.

The bride was given in marriage by her eldest brother, Robert Cromie II.

Dr. Wright for many years was Canada's top-ranking tennis player and Davis Cup team member.

Canadian CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES are GRADED

FANCY QUALITY
Produced from a selection of the best fruit and vegetables available, perfectly matured, free from blemishes, uniform in size and colour, canned at the proper time, so that excellence of flavour and appearance may be preserved.

CHOICE QUALITY
Consists of fruit and vegetables selected for tenderness and fine flavour. Not as uniform as "Fancy Quality;" allows slight variation in size, colour and maturity.

STANDARD QUALITY
Third grade; prepared from well matured fruit and vegetables of good quality, but not as carefully selected for uniformity of colour or size as "Choice Quality".

NO matter what variety of canned fruit or vegetable you buy, there is a way to be sure of getting exactly the quality you want . . . for Canadian canned fruits and vegetables are graded according to standards established by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. There are three grades: "Fancy Quality," "Choice Quality," "Standard Quality," which indicates third grade. The correct grade mark is printed on the label of each can.

To buy your canned fruits and vegetables by grade, simply ask for the quality you want by its grade name.

Then examine the label on your purchase—to be sure the grade mark printed thereon corresponds with the grade you requested. When you buy by grade you buy with confidence.

I.O.D.E. Group Also Arranges For Annual Heather Day

Attendance prizes, cards, music, refreshments and candy for sale will feature the garden party to be held under the auspices of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., on July 6 at the home of Mrs. A. M. Pillar, Hampshire Road, Oak Bay.

Plans for the party were discussed at the monthly business meeting of the chapter yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Bertha Parsons is the general convener for the affair, and assisting her will be Miss Georgina Herd, Mrs. Goodfellow, Mrs. Ada Matheson, Mrs. G. W. Pottinger and Miss Sorby. The proceeds of the party will be used for the obligations of the chapter.

Mrs. A. S. Christie, regent, Mrs. Pillar, standard-bearer, and Miss Terry, vice-president, attended the National Chapter annual meeting in Vancouver.

Mrs. Christie and Mrs. Pillar, back from the meeting, spoke in glowing terms of the high ideals of the order and the impressive service held last Sunday at Christ Church Cathedral in Vancouver, when upwards of 60 standard-bearers carried the colors into the building.

The chapter's corner for Alexandra Rose Day will be convened by Mrs. Ada Matheson. The Hudson's Bay section has been allotted to the chapter.

Miss Josephine Crease nominated Mrs. G. MacDonald as a member and Mrs. R. B. McMicking welcomed her in the name of the chapter.

Mrs. G. W. Pottinger was appointed general convener for Heather Day, the city having granted the chapter permission to sell heather as usual on August 26 in commemoration of the leaving of the first contingent for France in 1914. Terry's will be the headquarters for Heather Day.

Mrs. James Shaw, who has been prevented by illness from attending meetings for two months, was welcomed back to the chapter by Mrs. Christie.

Miss Lee gave the Echoes secretary's report, reminding the members of the National Chapter's visit to Victoria today.

Mrs. Christie read some extracts from the I.O.D.E. constitution which were very instructive and helped to impress all present with the high ideals of the order.

After the meeting, Mrs. Walter and Miss Lee served tea.

I.O.D.E. Juniors' Work Is Studied

VANCOUVER (CP)—Work of junior chapters will be given more attention in future by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, as a result of action by yesterday's closing convention sessions of the order here.

A resolution was adopted which provided for establishment of a special committee to investigate the possibility of allowing junior representation and junior reports at national meetings of the order.

The committee was given authority to draw up a general program for junior chapters after consultation with provincial presidents.

Actress Claims Portrait Amazon

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Why, that woman looks like an Amazon!"

That's what Constance Bennett says she exclaimed when she first saw the portrait Willy Pogany did of her in oil, the one he had in court today with a $3,500 unpaid price tag.

"I told him that my thigh was too thick, that the arm was out of proportion and also that the face was too thin," testified the actress, adding she thought it looked "pop-eyed."

Then was her face red when Pogany explained his wife, Elaine, had aided in posing for the body of the portrait.

"She weighs 135 pounds, while I weigh only 100," said Miss Bennett. "Of course, I was embarrassed to death at making a comment on Mrs. Pogany's size, and everything became confused."

The actress said she had agreed to pay Pogany $500. He previously had testified she changed that order to "this decorative creation" at $3,500.

I.O.D.E. EXECUTIVE

VANCOUVER (CP) — Twenty-nine councillors were elected yesterday to the national executive of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire as it wound up its 38th annual meeting here. British Columbia members are: Mrs. A. P. Proctor and Mrs. R. J. Sprott, Vancouver, and Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Victoria.

Victorian At Court

Miss Denise Bullen, second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bullen of Victoria, was presented to King George and Queen Elizabeth by Mrs. Vincent Massey, wife of the Canadian High Commissioner, at a court held on May 12. Miss Bullen wore mist blue net embroidered with silver over pink net. The bodice was trimmed with diamente, and her train was of the same materials as her dress. Her bouquet was of pink roses and lily of the valley.

Society

Mrs. J. F. Gordon, Vancouver, is spending a few days with Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, 777 Pemberton Road.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gooderham of Winnipeg arrived here recently to spend part of the summer here and at Qualicum.

Mrs. Bruce Cash left today for Winnipeg to attend the Women's Canadian Press Conference. She will also visit Toronto.

George Pringle of Vancouver, Mr. Arnold Gardiner of Lloydminster, Sask., and Miss Babs Cochrane of New Westminster.

In honor of Miss Phyllis Gale, whose marriage to Mr. John Casilio will take place next week, Mrs. F. Gale entertained this afternoon at her home, 131 Menzies Street, with a kitchen shower. Pale green streamers adorned the tea table which was centred with yellow iris and marigolds. The many useful gifts were placed on a table adorned with pale green crepe paper. The invited guests included: Miss Gale, Mrs. J. Gale, Mrs. D. Casilio, Mrs. E. Game, Mrs. W. Martin, Mrs. L. Game, Mrs. F. Hall, Mrs. A. Woollett, Mrs. S. Dickenson, Miss Alice Game of England, Miss Jean Clark, Miss Lorraine Martin, Miss Vera Game and Miss Margaret Beatty. Mrs. L. Game poured tea and was assisted by Miss Martin and Miss Clark.

SOOKE

At a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of Holy Trinity Church Wednesday afternoon final arrangements for a garden party at Woodside Farm on June 8 were made. Transportation will be provided with a car leaving Saseenos at 2.15, and running between Sooke and Woodside Farm between 2.30 and 3.

Women's Auxiliary to the Sooke branch, Canadian Legion, met Wednesday. Final plans were made for a garden party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Thornber June 29. Conveners appointed were Mrs. R. Strong, Mrs. A. Duncan, Mrs. M. Lye, Mrs. H. Hewlett, Mrs. R. Fitton and Mrs. J. Collins. Mrs. M. Lye was appointed as delegate to attend the provincial convention in Vancouver in August.

Examiners In Music Named

The Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, London, has announced the names of the four examiners who will judge students in Canada this year.

They are Dr. Harold E. Darke, D.Mus. Oxon, A.R.C.M., F.R.C.O., professor at the Royal College of Music; Mr. Harry Isaacs, A.R.A.M., professor at the Royal Academy of Music; Mr. Arnold W. Goldsborough, Hon. A.R.C.M. F.R.C.O., professor at the Royal College of Music, and Mr. Maurice D'Oisly, F.R.A.M., professor at the Royal Academy of Music.

Dr. Darke and Mr. Isaacs will conduct the examinations in British Columbia. Both will sit on the lower mainland and on Vancouver Island. Mr. Isaacs will do the work in the interior of the province.

The women's auxiliary to the Pride of Victoria Lodge No. 4567 R.A.O.B., held its regular meeting in the hall, 1218 Langley Street, last night. It was decided to hold a whist drive on June 7.

Oak Bay Council Briefs

By-laws for local improvement work involving an expenditure of nearly $20,000 for street surfacing were introduced at yesterday afternoon's session of the Oak Bay Council. In connection with this work the advisability of purchasing a grader at a cost of about $5,000 was discussed at length at a recent meeting of the council in committee of the whole. It was finally decided to defer the purchase for some time.

J. Vaughan Roberts was yesterday reappointed to represent the council on the board of directors of the Jubilee Hospital.

The council gave its approval of plans for a proposed house in the Uplands, to be built by G. Brown on Weald Road at an estimated cost of $6,150.

The council denied the request of a property owner for rezoning of the area around Lorne Terrace and Crescent Road to permit building of houses with less than the 1,200 square feet minimum floor area required. The property owner wished to subdivide an area of about one acre. The council decided it could not reopen its zoning by-law every time a request for such action was made.

The council will not sell property on Pacific Avenue until other land in areas nearer the centre of the municipality has been disposed of, the council decided. An offer of $180 for a lot on Pacific was refused.

At a committee-of-the-whole meeting earlier in the week the council decided to advise the City of Victoria that Oak Bay was willing to co-operate in the matter of obtaining an airport at Gordon Head as soon as the proposal was presented in a more concrete form.

At the same committee meeting the council ordered the placing of signs at the boundaries of the municipality stating the legal speed limit. The signs were suggested by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

Curtail London Night Flights

LONDON (CP)—Civil aircraft operators have been warned against joyhopping over London at night, or in fact flying within 20 miles of Westminster Bridge between sunset and 2 a.m. at altitudes between 3,000 and 11,000 feet.

A ban against night flying over London between those altitudes has been issued by the Air Ministry, which received reports of near collisions between civil machines and unlighted Royal Air Force planes engaged in manoeuvres.

Friend of Wagner Dies at Bayreuth

BAYREUTH, Germany (AP)—Hans Paul Baron von Wolzogen, 89, friend and interpreter of the composer, Richard Wagner, died yesterday. Baron von Wolzogen, playwright, critic, and himself a composer, wrote extensively of Wagner and of Bayreuth.

HOUSING PLANS ARE EXPLAINED

F. W. Nicolls, Dominion Director of Housing, Answers Questions

F. W. Nicolls, director of housing, Department of Finance, Ottawa, in addressing members of the advisory council, the Builders' Exchange, the Real Estate Board and the architects, at a dinner-meeting held in Spencer's dining-room last evening, briefly described the activities of the Dominion Housing and Improvement Plans and answered many questions arising from local experiences with these plans.

Mr. Nicolls is on a nation-wide tour in the interests of these housing schemes of the government.

In his opinion the most important item before the public today, affecting the greatest number of people, was the problem of housing.

The Dominion Housing Act came into existence in 1935 and was functioning favorably by the spring of 1936. At this time the average loan was approximately $5,300. It had since dropped to $3,350, and was at the present time up to about $4,000.

In 1937 approximately 40 per cent of all the construction in Canada was done under the act.

A family with an average income of $100 a month could build and live in a $3,000 home under the scheme, the speaker said. But it was not possible to build under the scheme if the income was lower than this.

A borrower should not expect immediate approval of his application. The government studied the application thoroughly before the loan was granted. In the estimating department there were accurate records filed of the trend of the cost of building in all parts of the Dominion. If the application was withheld, it did not come up to the government requirements.

The majority of loans were made on an 80 per cent basis. No loans were granted under 70 per cent.

A loan included everything that is spent on the construction of the building.

As far as the government was concerned the age or sex of an applicant did not make any difference in the granting of a loan.

H. Whittaker, president of the Victoria Chapter of the Architects' Institute of British Columbia, was in the chair.

Shriners on Way To Los Angeles

En route to imperial sessions to be held in Los Angeles from June 6 to 9, Shriners of Victoria and Vancouver left this afternoon for Seattle, after a brief parade through the city streets.

Forty-two members of the Vancouver Gizeh Temple patrol unit arrived by the afternoon boat and were joined by 38 Victoria members for the short parade in the downtown area. The whole party left on the Seattle boat.

From Seattle the Shriners will proceed to Portland to visit the Shrine hospital for crippled children, and later will join members of the Afifi Temple, Tacoma, to continue on to the convention.

Col. Donald McGugan headed the local members, who are expected back on June 12.

Victorians Go To Convention

The Victoria Soroptimist Club will be represented at the biennial international convention of Soroptimist Clubs to be held at Atlantic City, N. J., from June 13 to 22 by the Misses Marjorie and Doris Holmes and Mrs. Dorothy Wilson.

It is expected delegates from Vancouver, New Westminster, Chilliwack, Nelson, Rossland-Trail and from points on the prairies and in eastern Canada will also attend the meetings.

Miss Marjorie Holmes will present the report of the Victoria Venture Club at the convention.

The programe for the sessions, announced by Miss Alice Steele, president of the U.S. Federation of Soroptimist Clubs, will be as follows:

June 13, registration, federation board meeting, discussion groups; June 14, formal opening, reports of officers, regional directors, executive secretary, historian, arbitration, advisory and emblem committees, luncheon, New Jersey clubs outside Atlantic City as hostesses, and dinner, with the Atlantic City club as hostess; June 15, resolutions, memorial service, as well as special discussion groups; June 16 will be devoted to constitution and by-laws, reports of extension and Venture Club committees, luncheon, with the Pennsylvania clubs as hostesses, and dinner, with the Philadelphia club as hostess; June 17, nominating committee, the Mercy Ellen Crehan award (extension), publicity award, election of officers and luncheon arranged by the Atlantic City club; June 18 will be vacation day for members and the installation dinner will be held that evening. On June 19 visitors from abroad will arrive and the International committee will meet and the North Atlantic region will be hostesses at a buffet supper.

HEAVY HORSES AT FALL FAIR

One Hundred and Sixty Prizes Offered Will Attract Large Entry

Heavy draught horses of the Percherons, Belgian and Clydesdale breeds are being brought here from as far east as Ontario and as far south as California for the Fall Fair at the Willows from September 10 to 17 inclusive, it was announced yesterday by W. H. Mearns, secretary of the B.C. Agricultural Association.

Chief attraction is the 160 prizes, amounting in all to more than $2,000, which will be awarded in the 72 different classes in the breeding horses section, which will be under the direction of Commnd C. H. R. Slingsby.

Special awards are being given for four and six horse teams, while the Clydesdale Horse Association of Canada has donated two gold medals, one for the best Clydesdale stallon and the other for the best Clydesdale mare.

Blue ribbon championship awards are also being given in the Percherons, Belgian and Clydesdale classes, and blue ribbon grand championship awards in the thoroughbred division.

Owing to the fact that all entries in this section of the fair have to be checked by the Canadian National Livestock Records, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, all entries must be sent in to the Victoria exhibition office not later than August 13, Mr. Mearns stated.

INSTALLATION AT CATHEDRAL

New Officers of Young People's Association Take Over Duties

Members of Christ Church Cathedral A.Y.P.A. held their installation meeting and banquet on Wednesday evening. The banquet, which was held in the gymnasium of the Memorial Hall, was preceded by the installation service in the cathedral, with Very Rev. Spencer Elliott, Dean of Columbia, officiating, assisted by Rev. A. E. Hendy. Miss Jean Elliott was at the organ.

Each of the new officers was presented with the badge of office by the dean in an impressive ceremony.

Dick Batey, president of the branch, was chairman at the banquet, which was attended by 100 members and guests. The other officers are Leonard Dixon, retiring president; Herbert Clague, vice-president; Vimie Kilsby, recording secretary; Peggy Mulliner, corresponding secretary, and Gordon Langley, treasurer, local council representatives, and Leonard Dixon and Chris Howland. Other officers will be elected in September.

The long tables were attractively decorated in the A.Y.P.A. colors, blue and white, with peonies, blue and white iris and candles to match. Favors and noisemakers at each guest's place added to the merriment of the evening. Hand-painted serviettes were used as place cards, the name of the person being painted on the napkin.

The guest speakers were George Bennett, president of the local council, Dean Elliott and Rev. E. O. Robathan, retiring chaplain.

Specially invited guests included Mrs. George Bennett and Mrs. E. O. Robathan. The new officers and the special guests received rosebud corsage bouquets.

During the evening Mr. Robathan was presented by the retiring president with a humidor made of Australian regal mulga wood. Mr. Dixon paid Mr. Robathan a warm tribute and expressed the regret of the branch at losing so valued a friend. As a farewell tribute the members sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Mr. Hendy presided over the closing ceremonies of the banquet. Community singing was enjoyed throughout the evening.

MISSIONARY HEAD

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. G. Ernest Forbes of Weston, Ont., was elected president of the Dominion board of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church yesterday.

GASTRIC TROUBLE
So Bad He Was Frightened

Does your stomach trouble frighten you? Do those acute pains, the distress of gas, dyspepsia, heartburn and similar troubles sometimes make you despair? Then do what Mr. John James, of Portsmouth, did. "My gastric trouble became so bad, I got frightened," he writes. "Then I tried Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. From the first day's trial I had great relief. I have taken only two small bottles and have not had any symptoms of my trouble since."

Time after time this scientific formula—Maclean Brand Stomach Powder—has brought almost instant relief—even where stomach trouble has been chronic for years. Find out how quickly it can soothe and heal your stomach. But be sure you get the genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. Look for the signature, "Alex. C. Maclean", on both bottle and carton. None other is genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. In powder and tablets, 75c, at druggists. 112

Burns Defeat Pacesetters

Continue Fine Comeback in A Section Softball With 8 to 1 Victory

Playing good ball behind the smart pitching of Lloyd Jones, Manager Frank Shandley's Burns A section softballers, who less than a week ago were lodged in the cellar berth, scrambled up to share second place with the Longshoremen yesterday evening when they blasted out in 8 to 1 triumph over the leading Camerons at Victoria West Park.

The Burns crew climbed onto the recovery track late last week and have been going great guns ever since and last night's exhibition indicates that they mean to give the other five clubs in A section race plenty of opposition for the 1938 laurels.

Other A games saw the Longshoremen smother Saanich, 18 to 2, and Macdonalds defeat Hollywood 14 to 13.

Jones, Burns twirler, turned in a splendid performace on the hillock. He just missed a shutout when Camerons scored their only run in the ninth.

SCORE EARLY

Burns put the pressure on Tommy Johnston, opposing hurler, early in the game and sent three runners over the route in the opening frame and another three in the second. One run in the third and another in the seventh completed the scoring for Shandley's boys.

Score by innings:
Cameron .....000000001—1
Burns .....33100010x—8

Batteries: Johnston and Harris; Jones and Caddell.

STEVEDORES WIN

Husky Bill Tesky was another hurler who displayed good form last night when he piloted the Longshoremen to their 18 to 2 victory over Saanich at Hampton Road. The suburban club rushed in three pitchers in a desperate attempt to put the lid on the Stevedores' attacks. The victory boosted Stevedores into second place with Burns.

Score by innings:
V.L.A. .....305420400—18
Saanich Con. ..000000011—2

Batteries: Tesky and Dunnett; Campbell, Booth, Ono and Paine.

Hollywood Club lost the second berth position they had held for some time when they fell to defeat at the hands of the Macdonalds at the Athletic Park, 14 to 13. It was a free-hitting game, with Macdonalds getting 15 bingles and the clubmen 14. Four circuit knocks were scored by Hollywood batsmen, Lionel Bradley notching two and Noel Morgan and Harry Barber clouting one apiece.

Score by innings:
Macdonalds ...400110431—14
Hollywood ....010314220—13

Batteries: Byers and Gray; Price and Berry.

D SECTION SCORES

Motor House 13, Canadian Scottish 10.

Victoria Brass & Iron 15, Moose 11.

Playing in a postponed C section encounter, Hollywood Club trounced the Victoria Meat Market, 26 to 6.

TONIGHT'S GAMES

Spencers vs. Odd Fellows, Victoria West. Referee, Barnswell.

Northwestern Club vs. Victoria Meat Market, Savory Park. Redgrave, Dymond.

Games commence at 6.15.

BARNEY ROSS has joined the list of retired fighters. The little Jewish lad from Chicago, after a brilliant career with the padded mitts, went out the hard way on Tuesday night, absorbing a terrific lacing at the hands of that little negro human windmill from Los Angeles, Hammering Henry Armstrong. Ross is to be congratulated for going down like a champion. He could have quit anywhere from the 10th round on and his hundreds of followers would have thought none the less of him. But no, he showed courage and pluck by sticking it out until the final gong. It may not have been wise, but apparently that's the way Ross wanted it.

The name Barney Ross always brings back memories of his three great fights with Jimmy McLarnin, our own famous little welterweight from Vancouver, B.C. Barney and Jimmy put on some of the greatest scraps in the history of the division. Ross won the odd one in three. It is not so long ago that McLarnin announced his retirement, and now his toughest opponent joins him on the sidelines. McLarnin and Ross are similar in one way. They left the ring with a good big slice of their earnings. Both boys came up from nothing, but when they did get into the big money they had enough sense to sock it away for the time when finis was written to their careers.

It is interesting at this time to review the careers of Tuesday night's battlers. Ross was born on New York's east side, and he always put it plainly and truthfully that he was a poor kid. The family moved to Chicago, where Barney grew up. He lived in a tough neighborhood and had to fight his way out. He became a clerk and a bookkeeper, and the pay was nothing that would put a man in the higher income tax brackets.

So Ross became an amateur fighter and moved ahead into the professional ranks. In his three championship fights with McLarnin the Ross share of the receipts ran close to $100,000. And Barney took part in 80 fights all told. They were not all as luscious financially as the Ross-McLarnin debates, but most of them brought Barney more than the average bookkeeper earns in a year. Barney has always been in the best of health, and with a comfortable fortune tucked away he retired with a pleasant life ahead of him.

Henry Armstrong was born in St. Louis, the youngest of a family of 13. His first paying job was with a railroad section gang. A section worker on a railroad swings a pick and shovel and a spike-hammer, and the rate of pay does not compare with that of bank presidents. The best that can be said of it is that it keeps a man in the open and it's great exercise.

Armstrong decided to try his hand at the fight racket, and what a success he has made of the venture. His cut for the Ross bout, around $20,000, was a long step beyond the scale of pay for any section worker on any railroad right-of-way. The young negro has had so many fights that even he and his manager, Eddie Meade, have lost track of them. It is only lately that Armstrong has slammed his way into that pugilistic section where the purses are plush-lined, but he is away above where he started, and his future is financially rosy.

Mixed Foursome Event Scheduled

A twilight mixed foursome will be played over the first nine holes at the Uplands Golf Club Tuesday.

Members can arrange their own partners and starting time after 5.30.

An informal dance and bridge party will follow, at which members can invite their friends.

Members wishing to play are requested to notify the secretary as soon as possible.

BOXING

Miami, Fla. — Manuel Flores, 119½, Mexico City, outpointed Buddy Hayes, 110, Miami (10).

Fall River, Mass. — Slugger White, 141, New York, technically knocked out Pancho Villa, 143, New Bedford, Mass. (7).

New York—Joey Fontana, 126, Brooklyn, knocked out Sammy Crockett, 127, Amsterdam, N.Y. (3).

CUP SOCCER IS ON SPORT CARD

Victoria West and City to Meet in Dominion Series Tomorrow

Tomorrow's soccer match in the first round of the Dominion Challenge Cup series at Heywood Avenue will see strong Victoria West and Victoria City clubs meet in what is expected to be a keen battle. Dave Swan will referee the game, which will start at 2.45.

Several former Wednesday League players will be seen on the City's revamped line-up. Manager Dr. Arthur Poyntz of Victoria West will field a powerful eleven which has been beaten only once this season.

Line-ups follow:

Victoria West—T. Restall, C. Restall, J. Okell, R. Okell, R. Barnes, G. Barnes, Cosier, Sweeney, Watt, Morgan, Lorandini, Robinson, Bell, Sage and Fatterson.

Victoria City—Rowe, McConnell, G. Robbins, Moody, C. Robbins, Wyatt, L. Bradley, Cann, Raeside, Youson, Barber, Preston, Hope, Condon, Bray, McColl, Cornall, Murdock and McBride.

Bois Roussel Captures Epsom Derby

Flashed across the Atlantic by radiophoto to New York, relayed to San Francisco and then rushed to Seattle by airplane the above picture, the first to arrive in Victoria, shows the finish of the famous Derby at Epsom Downs, England, on Wednesday. Sweeping along in a heavy rain, Bois Roussel, 20 to 1 shot, overcame a bad start and flashed home a winner in the 158th running. Scottish Union was second and Pasch, the favorite, third. Bois Roussel's win brought a $50,000 fortune to his owner, Hon. Peter Beatty, and scattered fortunes among Irish sweepstake ticket-holders throughout the world.

BALL GAMES ON TOMORROW

Victoria All-stars in Exhibition Fixtures Against Twig Island

Local baseball fans will be afforded another opportunity of witnessing Vancouver players in action tomorrow, when Twig Island, members of the mainland Senior Commercial League, oppose the Victoria All-stars in a two-game exhibition series at the Athletic Park. The fixtures will be played at 2.30 and 6.

Peggy Duff, who played with the Vancouver Firemen for seven years, manages the visitors and will lead his boys into battle against the locals. The mainlanders have a fast, snappy club with a good pitching staff and only recently defeated Lowneys, 7 to 1.

Line-ups announced for the series follow:

Twig Island — Catcher, Red Conn; pitchers, Al Peterson, Bobby Gibbons, Chuck Biggars, Percy Condon and Dick Alexander; infielders, Reggy Duff, Les Gibbs, Lee Desaulnie, Barney Hadey; outfielders, Joe Naples, Lois Larsen, Bill Patterson and George Anofeychuck.

Victoria All-stars — Catchers, Axel Kinnear, Wally Scott, Jimmy Given; pitchers, Ray Maitland, Sonny Walker, Stan Davies, Lloyd Jones, Lloyd Cann, Ernie Woodward and Lonnie Murray; infielders, Tommy Restall, "Red" Emery, "Red" Palmer, Henry Harris, Raymond George and A. Barnswell; outfielders, Steve Dunc, Ted Maitland, Jimmy Patterson, C. Restall, Rogers and Bridgewood.

St. Andrews In One-sided Win

VANCOUVER — St. Andrews walloped Chinese Students 11 to 1 last night in a first round match of the British Columbia division of the Dominion Cup soccer series.

Hap Smith with four, Johnny Webber with three, Graham White with two and Johnny Craig and Joe Brigani with one each were the St. Andrews scorers.

CRICKET LINEUP

The Five C's cricket team for tomorrow's match against the Albions at Beacon Hill follows: Eric Quainton, Griffin, J. and G. Payne, Nixon, Atwell, Hepworth, P. C. Payne, McIlvenny, Rev. Comley, Rev. Crees, Peers and Fetch.

Schoolboy Rowe Back In Minors

Former Detroit Pitching Ace Fails in Comeback; Yanks Win Pair

They said so-long to the Schoolboy today—one of the grander guys in this baseball business.

They'll remember Schoolboy Rowe for his "How'm I Doin', Edna?" greeting to his bride that laid the radio audience in the aisles back in the palmy days. They'll remember him pitching Detroit Tigers to pennants in 1934 and 1935.

And they'll remember him, too, working his heart out this spring trying to come back, trying to overcome an arm ailment that specialists had been laboring over for more than a year.

Three times this spring he took the long walk to the showers. His heart was there, but that ailing wing couldn't finish what it started.

So yesterday, the Tigers sent him back to Beaumont from where he skyrocketed to the top in 1933. They hope the warm, sunny climate of the southwest may restore the life and zip to the salary whip.

RUNS CHANCES

And in Schoolboy Rowe you have the picture of the disappearing chances of Mickey Cochrane and his Detroit dynamiters in this year's American League wars. With Vernon Kennedy and Rowe Mickey might have gone places.

But with Kennedy alone—and there isn't another top flight grade A flinger on the staff—Detroit looks strictly a long shot. The Tigers had shown their first consistent winning effort of the season when they headed east, with their first stop Yankee Stadium. With Kennedy up, they finished in front in the series opener Wednesday.

But yesterday, Mickey sent Poof Poffenberger and Elden Auker to the post and neither had it. The Yanks won both ends of a doubleheader, 5 to 4, with Spud Chandler turning in a six-hit effort and Red Rolfe whacking a homer, and 5 to 2 with Monte Pearson hurling his best game of the season, a five-hitter.

That boosted Yanks up to within 2½ games of the American League-leading Cleveland Indians. The tribe outlasted Athletics in a battle of home runs in Philadelphia and posted a 10 to 5 victory.

The pace-setting New York Giants in the National League were rained out in Pittsburgh, but picked up half a game anyway as the second-place Chicago Cubs lost a 6 to 2 affair to Boston.

Homers by Ernie Koy and Cookie Lavagetto featured an 11 to 5 win for Brooklyn over Cincinnati Reds. Ducky Medwick collected four hits, three of them doubles, to pace St. Louis Cardinals to a 12 to 5 victory over the Phillies.

Dutch Leonard pitched a six-hitter as Washington Senators swamped Chicago White Sox 7 to 1. Young Jim Bagby duplicated that effort in hurling the Boston Red Sox to a 6 to 1 win over St. Louis Browns.

Cheques of $25 each will be donated to St. Joseph's and Jubilee Hospitals and the Mill Bay Solarium from the gate receipts in the May 24 games, President W. J. Cull of the Victoria Baseball Association announced last night.

BILLY BUXTON SCORES KAYO

Victoria Featherweight Puts Away Frankie Mandell in Fourth Round

TACOMA—Billy Buxton, 127, Victoria, B.C., returned to the ring after an absence of six months to score a fourth-round knockout victory over Frankie Mandell, 129, Santa Cruz, Cal., in their scheduled 10-round main event bout here last night.

Buxton, on the shelf since last December, when he broke his left hand in a fight with Umio Gen, California Japanese, actually stopped Mandell twice, but only the second kayo counted. The bell ending the second round saved the Santa Cruz featherweight from an even earlier defeat, since he had to be dragged to his corner and revived in order to continue after being floored shortly before the stanza ended.

Mandell gave Buxton some trouble at the outset, getting inside the Canadian featherweight's swings and rocking him several times with short right-hand punches, but Buxton, enjoying a reach advantage, finally found the range.

Truman Kennedy, 138, Bellingham, staged a strong closing rally to gain a hairline decision over Paul Smith, 134½, Tacoma, in the top six-rounder.

Dominion Shows Fight Pictures

Starting Tuesday at the Dominion Theatre the motion pictures of the welterweight championship fight between Barney Ross and Henry Armstrong, which saw the latter register a smashing one-sided victory, will be shown. The film is being rushed to Victoria by airplane, and will include a round-by-round description and other ringside highlights.

Salmonbellies Take Over Lead

NEW WESTMINSTER — The Canadian champion New Westminster Salmonbellies jumped into a clear two-point lead in the standings of the Intercity Box Lacrosse League last night as they bested the youthful Vancouver Burrards, 18 to 15.

The fishmen piled up a 9 to 6 lead at half time and boosted it to 15 to 11 at the end of the third quarter. They cut short a last period Burrard drive led by young Johnny Dale to record the win.

JAMES RIDES ANOTHER FIVE

Sensational Jockey Has Another Big Day at Tanforan Track

SAN FRANCISCO—Physician, owned by Mrs. L. Pecklo, of San Diego, nosed out Sun Portland in a photo finish to win the feature six-furlong race at Tanforan yesterday. Flora Upset was third.

Basil James, leading jockey of the spring meeting was up on the winner. The time was 1.13 3-5.

Physician paid $7.60, $4.20 and $3.20; Sun Portland, $5.20 and $3.80, and Flora Upset, $3.60.

James, of Sunnyside, Wash., enhanced his position as leading jockey at the meeting by bringing five winners across the finish line to boost his string of triumphs to 62.

Starting May 20, James was in the saddle of three or more winners daily until Wednesday, when he recorded only one victory.

James resumed his cornering of Tanforan turf laurels yesterday with a victory on Crete in the third race. He continued with booting Physician ahead in the featured fifth; Rodney Pan in the sixth; Valerie Jean in the seventh, and Fair Cynthia, in a photo finish with Victor for the final event of the day.

Bubbling Over Dies Suddenly

LEXINGTON, Ky. Bubbling Over, 1926 Kentucky Derby winner, died yesterday.

Since 1927 the star had been in stud on Col. E. R. Bradley's Idle Hour Farm.

Olin Gentry, farm manager, said the chestnut son of North Star-Beaming Beauty, apparently was in good health Wednesday night.

COLWOOD GOLF

Mrs. H. G. Mackenzie led the field in A class in the June medal competition played at the Colwood Golf Club yesterday by posting a card of 88-8—80. Mrs. D. A. Macdonald was the winner in B division with a score of 102-21—81.

Local Golfers Go to Seattle

Players from the Victoria Golf Club will travel to Seattle tomorrow to play a return match against a team from the Seattle Golf Club. Phil Taylor, Oak Bay pro., will make the trip, along with the following players: Alan Taylor, A. Watson, A. S. G. Musgrave, Harold Wilson, R. Scott-Moncrieff, W. P. Bowden, A. B. Crumb, W. H. M. Haldane, J. D. D. Campbell, Trevor Roberts, Stan Haynes, Desmond Barrett, Colonel Fort, J. Ruggles, J. P. Paret, Ray Castle, T. O. Mackay, E. D. Todd, W. S. Campbell, L. S. V. York, J. Gray, W. C. Merston, W. L. McIntosh and C. G. Heisterman.

BOXLA GROUP IS DIVIDED

B Section Will Operate in Two Divisions; Navy and James Bay Winners

Victoria's box lacrosse commissioners and managers of senior B teams met last night in the offices of W. C. Moresby, K.C., and decided to divide B section into two divisions. Oaklands, Navy and James Bay will play in the top division, and Conservatives, Cox's Army and Victoria Indians will operate in the second section.

The reason for this action is that the first three squads mentioned above are too strong for the other teams, which tends to make the games one-sided.

Tonight at 6.15 at the Athletic Park, the two top-rating local squads, Oaklands and James Bay, will clash in a senior B engagement. Both teams are composed of speedy and capable stick-handlers and fans are promised plenty of action. Ditchburn and Menzies will referee.

Intermediate squads will also play tonight. This billing will bring together Esquimalt and Oaklands at Victoria West Park at 6.15, with Brynjolfson and Ross refereeing.

RESULTS

At Beacon Hill Park last night the Navy scored a 16 to 10 victory over Victoria Indians in a senior B clash. Although outscored in three of the four sessions, the braves showed considerable improvement over their last performance.

James Bay intermediates registered a one-sided 23 to 5 triumph over the Syracuse at Victoria West Park. Ted Menzie's smooth-working Bays built up an early lead and sailed on to an easy win.

Teams and scorers follow:

Navy—Lubin, Cockrill 1, Lumley 1, Geddes 4, Howes 3, W. De Costa 1, Butler 1, Armstrong 1, H. Smith 1, Malin 2, Brown 1 and Foster.

Victoria Indians—Thomas 3, Sylvester, David, Johnnie 2, Frank 3, F. Albany, D. Albany, Kami, A. Albany, Walker, Joseph 1, Joe and A. Joe 1.

James Bay—A. McKim, Sothern 1, Mason 3, J. Sargent 3, McMillen 3, McDonald, E. McKim 8, Clarke 1, R. Clarke 1, Allan, Pridham 3, Cullin 1, Winterburn and F. Sargent.

Syracuse—Crockett, Sage, Barry, Barr 1, Estridge, Holmes, Bryant 1, Sarsison, Watson, McKenzie, Thomas 2, Adams 1, Parrott and Tompkins.

Baseball Teams Battle Tonight

In a league engagement the Pitzer and Nex and Navy baseball teams will meet tonight at the Admirals Road grounds at 6.

Money Pours In For Title Fight

Advance Sale For Schmeling-Louis Bout Already Hits $250,000 Mark

NEW YORK—As every mail poured more cash into his bulging coffers, Michael Strauss Jacobs swept his littered decks at the hippodrome and ordered full steam ahead for his greatest production June 22—the long awaited return fight between Joe Louis and Maxie Schemling.

In fact, everything appeared so smooth and wonderful that old "Banana Mike" was just a bit worried and restless, suspicious that the calm meant a brewing storm. "I never ran a good show yet without at least one good law suit," muttered Mike, "so you can't blame me for looking for some lightning to strike. Every thing's going too good. We've already got $250,000 cash in the box, and it looks like the show can't miss doing a million bucks, only . . . ."

If Mike, a kind of a promoter who gets more kick getting out of jams than he does in picking up a stray dollar, thinks he's going to escape a few headaches in his greatest venture he may be surprised. The anti-Nazi group in New York are sure to make at least a dozen noisy demonstrations against Schmeling. Tuesday night, when announcement was made of the fight at ringside before Henry Armstrong's massacre of game little Barney Ross, the crowd drowned out Schmeling's name with violent boos, whereas Louis' name was cheered quite as furiously.

WILL PICKET FIGHT

A movement is afoot to picket the big brawl at Yankee Stadium, but it won't mean a thing, evidently, because advance ticket sales are brisker than anticipated. Reservations have been made by fight fans from a score of nations the world over—from Australia to France. A record assemblage of 700 newspaper men is expected. More than 1,000 Germans are coming over on a chartered boat.

At their rival camps—Schmeling at Speculator, N.Y., and Louis at Pompton Lakes, N.J.—champion and challenger already are in serious training.

Their mental attitudes are almost the same as two years ago when they drilled for the fight that startled the world. Schmeling doesn't predict another knock out victory, but Louis does.

Wins Two of Four Foursomes at St. Andrews; Goodman, Ward Beaten

ST. ANDREW'S, Scotland (CP) Great Britain had a 2 to 1 lead over the defending United States golf squad in Walker Cup Scotch foursomes at the end of play today. Eight singles matches will be played tomorrow.

Of the four matches played the British team won two and the Americans one. The fourth was tied at the end of 36 holes and will not count in the scoring.

Leonard Crawley and Frank Pennink, both former English amateur champions, turned back Fred Hass and Reynolds Smith 2 and 1 in the last match of the day.

The other British victory was scored by the Scottish duo of Hector Thomson and Gordon Peters, who soundly trounced Johnny Goodman, United States champion, and Marvin (Bud) Ward 4 and 2.

The American victory was achieved by Charles Yates, winner of the British Amateur title last week, and Ray Billows. They triumphed over Charles Stowe and Alex Kyle of Great Britain 3 and 2.

In the drawn match Jim Bruen, young Irish sensation, and Harry Bentley overcame a two-hole lead at the 27-hole mark to end all even with John Fischer and Charles Kocsis.

The victories gave Britain her first points in the biennial cup matches since 1934. A British team never has won the cup.

A FINE GESTURE

But for one of the most generous gestures any team ever made, the score would have been 3 to 1 for Britain. At the 21st hole, with the United States team leading, 3 up, Fischer inadvertently played out of turn. Bentley and Bruen, however, refused to accept the penalty to which they were entitled, and then went on to their brilliant finishing burst.

Two glorious money putts, one of nine feet by Bruen, the 18-year-old Irish player, at the 34th and one of 60 feet by Bentley at the 35th, both for threes, wiped out the lead Fischer and Kocsis had held most of the day.

The two British points were the first the home forces have been able to score since 1934 when they lost, nine matches to two. Two years ago, at Pine Valley, N.J., they were shut out, 9 to 0, while halving three matches.

ROCKFEL WINS OAKS AT EPSOM

Filly Duplicates Victory in One Thousand Guineas; Radiant Second

EPSOM, Eng.—Sir Hugo Cunliffe-Owen's Rockfel, by Felstead from Rockliffe, today won the 16th running of the Oaks, premier classic for fillies, duplicating her victory in April in the One Thousand Guineas.

Miss Dorothy Paget's Radiant was second and Sir Alfred Butt's Solar Flower third in the field of 14.

Rockfel, starting as favorite at 3 to 1, beat Radiant by four lengths over the 1½-mile Derby course to duplicate last year's feat of Sir Victor Sassoon's Exhibitionist, who also won both the One Thousand Guineas and the Oaks.

The King and Queen and a large crowd watched the classic run in brilliant weather.

Helen Moody Is Finally Beaten

WEYBRIDGE, Eng. — Helen Wills Moody was shunted to the sidelines in the St. George's Hill tennis tournament yesterday by 24-year-old Ruth Mary Hardwick, England, who spotted the 32-year-old Californian the first set, then rallied to win, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3, and move into the semi-finals.

High Praise Given Vancouver Actress

Adjudicator Says May Fletcher Has Real Warmth in Drama Presentation

Three Vancouver groups and a Powell River intermediate team contributed to the five plays staged in the B.C. Provincial Drama Festival at the Shrine auditorium last night.

Larrae A. Haydon, the adjudicator, found cause for his severest criticisms of the festival in the evening's bill, which included heavy dramas and tragedies.

"It was rather macabre and depressing," he said. "I found the standards lower than on the first two nights of the festival. I would say to the casts, however, that they lacked not personal effort, but direction."

Mr. Haydon selected for individual praise, however, the performance of May Fletcher of the Vancouver Masquers in their performance, "The Londonderry Air," a phantasy by Rachel Field, directed by A. J. Foxall.

He said he found in her a warmth transmitted to the audience of the kind that Helen Hayes has. She showed great charm, but it was wasted because she was building up the other characters to her own detriment. In her romantic scene with the leading man, played by Harold Rhodes, a lyric quality was necessary. She had it, but he did not.

The play, he said, seemed a series of individual characterizations that never moved in complete harmony. Diction was clear but the dialect was spotty. The set and lights were good.

Daphne Bailey and Larry McCance completed the cast of four.

The Self Help Dramatic Group presented "Winds of Life," a Canadian drama written by Dora Smith Conover and directed by Christine Chanter. It was the story of a war veteran's struggle to live in the north. Mr. Haydon found the set out of harmony with the play, although in itself it was attractive, although dark. He thought the son, played by Fred Huish, showed false anxiety when he thought his father drowned. The stoicism of the mother, played by Adah Partington, was almost amusing. The reunion between husband and wife was not even lifelike from a theatrical standpoint. The adjudicator felt, despite these criticisms, that the play deserved a good deal of encouragement and the players really had within their grasps the possibility of a strong, tense scene. Ted Griffiths, Andrew Petrie and Reg. A. Grey were the other players.

"The Fixed Cannon," by the Vancouver Masquers, was a courtroom scene, written by Warren Beck and directed by A. J. Foxall. Mr. Haydon said it had a well-balanced set, but was hard to believe. The opening scene should have had more comedy. The judge, played by Larry McCance, "sneaked" onto the stage when he should have had an important entry. Later his voice became detached from his thoughts. Marie, played by Merrilly Webster, showed good emotional content. Arthur, a consumptive, played by John Drainie, was too calm in his argument with the judge and the doctor's examination of him too cursory. The play was stolidly paced. Completing the cast were Alan Pearce, Mary Leask, Ken. J. McKenzie, Irene Robertson, Daphne Bailey, Tom Rannie, Gordon Rhodes and Harold Rhodes.

The Progressive Arts Players staged "Hostage," an incident of the Spanish war, preceding the loyalist attack on Oviedo, written by Harold Griffin and directed by Christopher Frere. The players were William White, Phyllis Norris and Bill Hutchinson. The adjudicator thought the early speeches lack conversational following, with poor emphasis on the most important point of the plot. In the two male characters he lost the Spanish volatility which was only retained by the mother. The dramatic conflict between the mother and her husband, who was a loyalist leader, did not ring true. The emotional quality was detached. The mother did a fine reminiscing scene, and the diction was clear throughout the play.

The other entry was in the intermediate group by the Powell River Young Thespians, directed by Campbell Forbes, in "Wall Flowers." Virginia Malnick, Dorothy Black, Lorraine Harper, Francis Hughes and Edith Taylor took part.

Mrs. Yvonne Firkins, adjudicating, said the actors took the natural animation out of their voices and were obviously awed by being on the stage. None seemed to realize she was playing the part of a character. Otherwise the lines were spoken clearly, she said.

Some species of ants kill their enemies by squirting formic acid at them.

Showboat Visits Lonely Cities

Victoria Entertainers Looked Forward to By Isolated Settlers

Reminiscent of the showboats which used to sail the Mississippi River, a group of Victoria entertainers will leave Victoria on the morning of June 10 on a 42-foot cruiser on an extensive tour to out-of-the-way coast towns of the province and Alaska.

The troup includes: Bert White, Emile Kinnon, Harold Davey, Wilf Adams and Frank Merryfield.

The "Showboat" will be skippered by Tom Cartwright and will travel as far north as Skagway.

Mr. White has been conducting such tours for four years. Word is sent in advance to the towns to be visited and the news quickly spreads throughout the outlying parts. On the evening of the day that the Showboat arrives in port, boats from neighboring settlements come for their yearly outside entertainment. Dances which follow the show sometimes last until five or six o'clock in the morning.

ROTARY HEARS TWO SPEAKERS

M. J. Little and Adjt. Charles Watt Address Club Members at Luncheon Today

M. J. Little, jeweler, and Adjt. Charles Watt of the Salvation Army made short addresses to a large attendance of Rotary Club members at luncheon at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Rotary Club members from Australia and New Zealand who were passing through Victoria yesterday were introduced to the local group.

History had dubbed the craft of the goldsmith the most honorable among the arts, Mr. Little told the club members in the first talk on the program. "The legitimate jeweler has the interests of the public at heart," the speaker declared.

The first authentic knowledge of gold came from the Book of Genesis, which was supposed to have been written at least 3,500 years ago. The speaker traced the history of gold from its use in the 15th century in England. At that time watches of gold were the important craft of the jeweler. A century later gold took its place prominently in jewelry of various kinds and finally evolved its present-day use as a metal best used in the jewelry business for designing.

WORLD-WIDE WORK

Internationalism akin to that of Rotary was the point stressed by Adjt. Watt in his address on the work of the Salvation Army as a worldwide organization. It operated in 95 countries and had 28,000 officers enrolled.

The speaker traced the history of the movement from 1878. The organization began its work on street corners in the slums of the large cities in the world to save derelicts of society by friendliness and with food and shelter. Adjt. Watt said the Salvation Army sheltered 48,000 homeless every night throughout the world.

Col. H. T. Goodman occupied the chair.

Sea Burial For Late Governor

KINGSTON, Jamaica (CP)—Sir Edward Denham, Governor of Jamaica since 1932, died in Government Hospital yesterday, aged 62. It was understood blood poisoning set in following an operation performed Wednesday night for an intestinal obstruction.

The body was buried at sea today, according to a request he had voiced.

The closing days of Eir Edward's life were clouded by severe labor unrest in the British West Indian colony that involved calling out of troops, summoning a British warship and the deaths of a number of persons.

Sir Edward was believed to be the first Governor of Jamaica to die on the island.

C. C. Woolley, Colonial Secretary, temporarily took the duties of the office.

All-Sooke Day Set For July 13

SOOKE—At a general meeting of the Sooke Community Association Tuesday evening arrangements for all Sooke day on the Sooke River Flats, July 13, were discussed. The program will be similar to that of previous years with new features added and improved accommodation for visitors.

Chairman of the various committees appointed were as follows: Executive, H. Goodrich; athletic, C. A. Helgesen; publicity, R. Robillard; finance, J. Collins; prizes, G. H. Jones; dance, H. Pontious; grounds, S. L. Shields; refreshments, F. Gray; barbecue, Mrs. F. Rumsby; baby show, Mrs. H. Roberson; secretary, A. F. Brownsey.

Ladysmith Plans Big Celebration

LADYSMITH—Plans for Ladysmith's annual celebration on Dominion Day took shape at a general meeting of committees Wednesday evening.

Although the main features of the day will fall into the broad lines laid down for the 38 previous celebrations held in this city, the scope of the 1938 event will be extended, especially in the big parade and in the field program.

New classes and groups have been introduced into the parade and the prize list has been made more attractive. This event is scheduled to assemble at Victoria Crescent where it converges on the Island Highway through Ladysmith, and will start on the march at 12.30. All through traffic on the highway during the hour of the parade will be rerouted one block south of the line of march on First Avenue along Esplanade for the length of the city.

High school and collegiate specialties that include discus, javelin and hammer throwing will make their appearance on the sports program, and in addition to the general track events for all grades and ages it is anticipated two of the island's crack baseball teams will contest for evening honors.

A big dance will be held at night.

Choristers Record Successful Year

The annual meeting of the Georgian Choristers was held in the clubrooms on Fort Street on Monday, Mrs. Georina Watt, the conductor-president, presiding.

This year's executive was re-elected with the exception of Mrs. C. L. Wilson, treasurer, who was unable to continue. Mrs. John Kyle will fill the vacancy.

Mrs. Watt gave an interesting resume of the year's work, and announced that the season had proved most successful from both a musical and financial aspect. The choir participated in several concerts, and had been successful in the Victoria Musical Festival winning the Daily Colonist Challenge Shield for obtaining highest marks in ladies' choirs, also winning top place in the ensemble class, in the Vancouver festival.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the executive.

Presentations were made to Mrs. Watt and Miss Ethel Janes, the choir accompanist.

Later in the evening a social was held and solos were sung by Mrs. J. Keating and Mrs. K. Stokes; recitation by Mrs. B. Chadwick and a trio by Mesdames Silver, Chadwick and Hudson.

An amusing "peg" competition was won by the contralto section.

The executive on this occasion were the hostesses for the evening and were responsible for the delightful refreshments which were served later.

The choir of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Jesse A. Longfield will give a sacred concert at Grace Lutheran Church, Blanshard at Queens Avenue, tonight at 8. The program will include instrumental and vocal solos, as well as choral numbers, and will open and close with a congregational hymn. During the evening a freewill offering will be received.

SALT SPRING GOLF

SALT SPRING—The annual competition for the Shipley Cup was held on Wednesday. This is a mixed two-ball foursome with half of the combined handicap allowed. Mrs. Penrose and V. Case-Morris were the winner with a net 69½. Fourteen couples took part.

The Truth About Soap Shampoos

1. This photograph shows bacteria and dandruff scattered, but not removed by ordinary soap shampoos.

2. All bacteria, dandruff and other foreign matter completely destroyed and removed by the Fitch Shampoo.

THERE is a simple, easy way to rid yourself of dandruff with the very first application. All that is necessary is to use a shampoo that completely dissolves dandruff and then washes it away.

Repeated laboratory, as well as practical, tests show that ordinary shampoos will not dissolve dandruff. Fitch's Dandruff Remover Shampoo dissolves every speck of dandruff instantly—or your money will be refunded—and then washes it away. It rinses clean in hard or soft water. Equally as good for blondes as brunettes. Try it today! Sold at drug counters. Professional applications at beauty and barber shops.

After and between Fitch Shampoos, Fitch's Ideal Hair Tonic is the ideal preparation to stimulate the hair roots and give new life, luster and beauty to your hair.

HEALTH BOARD HEAD RETURNS

Peebles Expected Back Next Week After European Tour Studying Insurance

Dr. Allon Peebles, chairman of the British Columbia Health Insurance Commission, is expected back in Victoria next week after a tour of Europe studying the operation of health insurance schemes.

On his return he is expected to prepare a report for the government showing how the health plans in England, Germany and the Scandinavian countries work out. The English scheme was recently widened out to take in several million more people.

On this may be based amendments to the British Columbia Act at the next session of the Legislature to make it more workable. The B.C. scheme was held up last spring when the medical profession declined to accept it. Since then a plebiscite was taken, endorsing the principle of the scheme applied on a progressive basis but no steps have been taken to implement it.

Licensing Planned For Coal And Gas

Government to Consider Regulations on First Fuel Control Move

Registering and licensing of all coal, gasoline and oil producers and distributors in British Columbia will be the provincial government's first step toward control of the coal and petroleum industries, it is reported in government circle. Price-fixing, if attempted, will come later.

Regulations to cover the licensing scheme are expected to go before the cabinet shortly for approval.

Their main purpose will be to provide the Coal and Petroleum Control Board with a record of the production and distribution of the two industries by areas and localities, so probably the license fees will be nominal.

However, they will involve the registration and licensing of close to 3,000 firms and persons, including all gasoline stations and refineries, all coal dealers and mines.

This will bring every person dealing with these products directly under government supervision.

By the terms of the Coal and Petroleum Control Act the government takes the responsibility for all regulations. Dr. W. A. Carrothers, the one-man board, acts in an expert and advisery capacity.

After the registration is completed the question of price control will be considered, it is expected. Dr. Carrothers has been carrying on an analysis of the price structure as revealed by the Macdonald commission report and other studies. It will probably be months before price-fixing is attempted.

Langford Tennis Club's Election

LANGFORD—A meeting of the Langford Tennis Club members was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Le Quesne on Thursday evening. The resignation of the officers and tea convener were accepted.

Officers elected were: President, A. N. Perrins; vice-president, E. F. Le Quesne; secretary-treasurer, Mr. A. F. Bayles; committee, Greta Hebden and H. Oswald Hincks; tea committee, Mrs. A. N. Perrin; Mrs. E. F. Le Quesne and Miss J. Seabrooke. A vote of thanks was passed by the meeting to A. A. F. Calland, late secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Calland, tea convener.

FRANK WARING LEADS GROUP

Chairman of Reconstructed Tourist Trade Committee of Chamber of Commerce

Frank Waring, who was an active member of the group some years ago, was named chairman of the newly constructed tourist trade development group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room today.

Appointed to the board of directors of the body were David Leeming, William Clarke, W. T. Straith, George MacDonald, Harold Husband and E. H. Harris. Mr. Waring was originally named to the board which later chose him as chairman.

Presiding at the luncheon, Duncan McBride stressed the importance of tourist trade development on Vancouver Island.

The matter of the appointment of a wharfinger at the Sidney wharf, whose salary would be paid by a small fee taken from car owners passing over the wharf, was referred to the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to be taken up at their meeting Monday.

Following the business of the luncheon the meeting was entertained by colored slides of a recent trip made through Europe and the Far East by A. S. Denny.

CYCLISTS SEEK RACING TRACK

Victoria Cycle Club Wants Lease From City of Douglas Street Property

Application for a 20-year lease at a nominal rental of $1 a year on property at the corner of Douglas Street and Summit Avenue, where they would like to construct a racing track, is sought in a letter from the Victoria Cycling Club received today at the City Hall.

The letter was considered by the lands committee yesterday. While no definite recommendation is expected from the committee to the council on Monday, it may suggest that if the council is disposed to grant the request, the terms be made for a 10-year lease with an option of renewal.

The club proposes to build the track of wood, 10 laps to the mile. It would be an open track with steeply banked ends. The centre oval might be utilized for sports of various kinds.

INDOOR YOUTH MEETINGS END

Outdoor Outings and Tennis Arranged By Y.P.S. For Summer Months

Summer outings, tennis, beach parties and picnics will be in vogue this season for members of the United Church Young People's Societies as the various groups bring their indoor meetings to a close.

Predicting an even more successful season during the coming fall, Rev. A. E. Whitehouse complimented the members of the Metropolitan Young People's Society for their wide and marked activity in the course of a speech at their closing banquet, held in the church Sunday school hall. Leonard Cannon, president, was in the chair.

Bill Anderson, a member of the directorate, read a letter from the Oriental Home thanking the society for its donation of tickets which will enable pupils to attend the community concerts during the fall.

Enid Cole, Miss Fay Smith, Miss Genevieve Knapp and Miss Gwen Whitehouse contributed to a musical program.

Among the fraternal guests were: Miss Mary Loudoun, president First United Y.P.S.; Gordon Corless, president, Esquimalt Naval and Military United Y.P.S.; Miss Molly Kennedy, acting president, O.B.Y.P.A.; Walter Reid, president, James Bay Y.P.S., and Miss Barbara Dawson, president, Tillicum Club. Other guests of honor included Mrs. A. E. Whitehouse and A. Herbert J. Simpson.

Community singing was enjoyed with Miss Ivy Bowles at the piano, after which Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crockford, magicians, entertained the society. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Miss Betty Leaman and her social committee, consisting of the Misses G. Whitehouse, Mary Crawford, Dorothy Howard and Dorothy Wiltshire.

MEETING ON BEACH

Adjournment of the general council meetings of the Greater Victoria and Lower Island United Church Young People's League until September was announced after a meeting of the Young People's United Church Council on Wednesday evening at Dallas Beach, with council president Mun Hope presiding.

Encouraging reports were given by the Miss Wilna MacGillivary, chairman of the fellowship committee, and Miss Eleanor Lanceley, assistant chairman of the cultural committee. An optimistic note was sounded by E. Jones, First United, and by Roy Hundleby, who gave a brief report on the provincial Y.P. conference.

The fellowship committee was temporarily augmented with two new members, Miss Dorothy Warren, Fairfield, and Miss Grace Jones, Esquimalt.

The matter of sending a delegate to the national Y.P. conference at Whitby, Ont., in July was also discussed.

After the meeting was adjourned, a song service was led by L. Cannon, closing with an "Avalanche."

POLICE AGENT BEATEN

VANCOUVER (CP) — William Sawchuck, police dry squad operative, was in a hospital today with fractured ribs suffered when he was attacked last night on a downtown street. Jack Thompson was arrested on a charge of assault.

Police said Sawchuck visited premises occupied by Thompson, was recognized as a "police spy," and was knocked down and kicked.

a little satisfaction out of losing to the Coast League leading Sacramento solons.

The Senators snapped Salvo's winning streak at eight games by beating him 6 to 3 last night, but in losing Salvo struckout six solons and became the circuit's leading strikeout pitcher. He has fanned 70 since the season started.

Seattle changed places with the Portland Beavers in the standings by beating them twice, 6 to 3 and 5 to 0.

Seattle is now in fourth place and Portland fifth. Powerful hitting by Seattle was too much for the Beavers.

A walk and a fly to the outfield gave Los Angeles a 7 to 6 decision over San Francisco Seals in 11 innings. The Seals outhit the Angeles 17 to 12, but the Angels made their hits pay off.

The effort of Jack Lindell, pitcher, turned right fielder for a night, in knocking a home run with two aboard in the ninth inning wasn't good enough, and the dismal Oakland Acorns lost their third straight to the Hollywood Stars 9 to 4.

PLAYERS HIT A NEW HIGH

"It's a colossal cast!" laughed Director John Ford as he measured his own height against the stalwarts who play the four brothers in "Four Men and a Prayer," 20th Century-Fox romantic drama featuring Loretta Young.

All four stand six feet or better and, coincidentally, three of them are Britishers.

Richard Greene measures six feet one inch, as does David Niven who hails from Kirriemuir in Scotland. Rugged, athletic George Sanders is the tallest of the three, recording a six foot three on the chart. William Henry stands a mere six feet.

C. Aubrey Smith and Reginald Denny, also carrying major roles in the picture, tower up in the six-foot class.

"Four Men and a Prayer" is coming tomorrow to the Capitol Theatre.

PLAZA THEATRE

Charlie McCarthy sings in "The Goldwyn Follies," now at the Plaza Theatre. He does a harmony duet of "I Love to Rhyme" with Phil Baker. The singing assignment had Charlie, a bit perturbed, according to Ventriloquist Edgar Bergen. Charlie was afraid that Bergen might let him down.

SYBELIUS SYMPHONY IN E MINOR

Sunshine softly filtering through green leaves
Or sharply glinting on the crystal
snow,
Soft velvet darkness of the starry night
Or the pearled evening's vivid sunset glow,
Tiny raindrops pattering on the eaves,
The distant darkening storm in thund'rous night,
Swift following the tree toad's
elfin note;
Silken sunrise on a shimmering
lake
Or the full drum beat of the noonday sun;
Strange mystical contrasting
things that float
Into our minds, in harmony, to make
A symphony of earth and sea and sky.
And one, a chosen son of artistry,
Rendered us a true interpretation.

Now At Dominion

Walter Woolf King and Della Lind in "Swiss Miss."

"RASCALS" IS COMEDY FILM

Jane Withers in 20th Century-Fox Production at the Atlas

Shirley Temple's "Bright Eyes" gave Jane Withers her introduction to screen fame, and now, three years after "Bright Eyes," she is hot on Shirley's heels in fan popularity.

A sensation from the very first, Jane appeared in a series of 20th Century-Fox starring vehicles that resulted in her winning sixth place in the authoritative fan poll, conducted annually by the Motion Picture Herald. Shirley, of course, has won first place three successive years.

The latest of Jane Wither's comedy films, "Rascals," is now at the Atlas Theatre. The 20th Century-Fox production features Rochelle Hudson, Robert Wilcox and Borrah Minevitch and His Gang in the cast.

"SWISS MISS" AT DOMINION

Laurel and Hardy Appearing in New Extravaganza Here

Beautiful settings, picturesque costumes and tuneful melodies provide a rich and varied background for the antics of Laurel and Hardy in their new extravaganza, "Swiss Miss," which opens today at the Dominion Theatre. The Alpine setting allows for the introduction of many novelties of entertainment such as folk dancing, bell-ringing, yodeling and flag-throwing.

In this picture they are seen as mouse-trap salesmen bent on ridding the cheese-producing districts of the Alpine republic of its rodents. As salesmen their efforts are unavailing, but as comedians Laurel and Hardy have seldom had a vehicle better suited to their antics.

Supplying the romantic interest and singing the special songs written for the new production are Della Lind, beautiful blonde Viennese, and Walter Woolf King. Both possess rich and appealing voices, and the musical interludes of "Swiss Miss" reach unusual significance. Eric Blore, English comedian, is another member of the cast meriting praise. The picture was directed by John G. Blystone.

Dance Revue At Royal Tonight

Pupils of Russian Ballet School Present "Footlight Frolics"

Seldom have Victoria theatregoers had the opportunity of seeing so varied a program as the one to be offered tonight by the Russian Ballet School in the new show "Footlight Frolics."

One hundred and fifty children will dance. The teachers, Phyllis Addison and Wynne Shaw, will be seen in several new innovations. Doreen Wilson, for many years leading lady of the school, will sing several numbers which have made her so popular with the radio audience. She will be accompanied at the piano by Eileen Dumbleton. Bill Irvine at the piano will render Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" and three complete ballets.

An eight-piece concert orchestra under the direction of W. F. Tickle will furnish the music for the show. "Footlight Frolics" should be one of the most entertaining and interesting shows of the year.

Seats on Sale For New Comedy

Seats are now on sale for the New York hit, "You Can't Take It With You," winner of the coveted Pulitzer Prize as the best play of 1937, which comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre for two nights, Monday and Tuesday, June 6 and 7.

"You Can't Take It With You" is now in its second year in New York, and has had record-breaking runs in Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

OAK BAY THEATRE

"We can always bank on Banks." Such seems to be the slogan of most British film producers, and probably explains why Leslie Banks seldom gets time to breathe between films. Just recently he has made "Debt of Honor," "Wings of the Morning," "Fire Over England," and is to be seen at the Oak Bay Theatre today, when Erich Pommer's "Farewell Again" (formerly "Troopship") is showing.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Lois Wilde has the role of young romantic foil in Clarence E. Mulford's new Hopalong Cassidy picture, "Hopalong Rides Again," now at the Columbia Theatre. The other femme lead is played by Nora Lane.

This is the 13th in the series of western thrillers which star William Boyd as the hard-riding "Hoppy." George "Windy" Hayes, Russell Hayden and Harry Worth are in the supporting cast.

WRIT SERVED ON U.S. LINER

Claim of $35,000 Against President Coolidge at San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Acting for creditors holding claims totaling $35,000, Marshall George Vice today served an attachment on the Dollar liner President Coolidge as the vessel lay at its pier.

The attachment was served on the liner's chief officer, and Vice named Michael Walsh custodian of the ship. Vice said the vessel was scheduled to sail at 3 p.m. today, but the attachment could not be lifted until bond double the amount claimed by the creditors was posted with the United States district court.

Dollar Line spokesmen said the bond would be furnished in ample time to enable the ship to sail on schedule.

The claims were for service, supplies and engineering repairs and were filed by the Marine Olympic Company, $5,670.40; Arthur H. Bevilockway, $16,036.93; the United Engineering Company Ltd., $11,479.74, and the L. S. Case Company, $2,043.

Wedge Seen For Spain Mediation

PARIS (AP)—The Noninter vention Committee's plan to withdraw foreign volunteers in Spain was seen today as a possible wedge to introduce mediation into the civil war.

A Spanish government spokesman admitted yesterday the "possibility" of Anglo-French mediation in the struggle if plans to withdraw the foreign fighters should prove successful.

It was believed in London and Paris, however, that troop withdrawals would be impossible without a halt in the fighting, since a census of the foreign fighters would have to be taken in order to make proportionate withdrawals from each side.

The Spanish government spokesman said mediation efforts would be "logical," since "you can't expect to drag men out of the front line trenches."

Despite these hints the situation was confused. Some reports reaching Paris from Burgos, the seat of Gen. Franco's insurgent government, and from Barcelona, capital of government Spain, said Franco-British efforts to effect an armistice would be given a cold reception. The two sides claimed to be equally sure of eventual victory.

By-election Held In Derbyshire

DERBY, Eng. (CP) — The government retained the West Derbyshire division in the by-election necessitated by the succession of the Marquess of Hartington, under-secretary for the Dominions, to the peerage on the death of his father, Duke of Devonshire.

The polling yesterday resulted as follows:

Henry Hunlike, Conservative, 16,740; C. F. White, Labor, 11,260; Milner Gray, Liberal, 6,515.

In the 1935 general election, Lord Hartington was returned by acclamation.

The new member, Mr. Hunlike, is a brother-in-law of the new Duke of Devonshire.

Company Faces Credit Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Wallace, United States Secretary of Agriculture, today ordered Swift and Company, Chicago packing concern, to cease using alleged credit, discount and weight discriminatory practices in the sale of its products.

A complaint said the company had employed "unfair, unjustly discriminatory and deceptive practices" in selling its products in New England states, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

It was charged on and between January 1, 1930, and January 16, 1937, the company had extended terms of credit to certain of its customers from 30 to 90 days, while during the same period and under similar circumstances it had limited credit to other customers from five to seven days.

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY (CP)—Receipts to noon today: Cattle 12, calves 5, hogs 10, sheep 192.

Cattle trade slow. Medium to good off-grass cows, $3 to $3.50; common, $2.50 to $2.75; there were not sufficient sales in other classes to establish a market.

No hog sales to noon. Thursday's prices: Selects, $9.75; bacons, $9.25; butchers, $8.75 off trucks.

"Torpedo Proof" Steel Is Tested

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The United States navy secretly tested new "torpedo proof" battleship construction today in the Delaware River with a real torpedo.

The commandant's office at the Philadelphia navy yard confirmed the test, but barred all but official observers.

Navy airplanes were ready for flight to force down any planes that might carry observers or photographers.

The new hull construction principles were carried out in building a special steel caisson which was the target of the torpedo.

ALBERTA OIL PIPELINE PLAN

Producers Invite British Capital For Turner Valley-Vancouver Link

OTTAWA (CP) — It was indicated here today a delegation from the Alberta Petroleum Producers' Association will visit London, England, mainly to interest British capital in construction of a pipe line from Alberta's Turner Valley oil field to Vancouver, whence the oil could be taken either to Great Britain or to British naval bases in other parts of the world by tanker.

The Tariff Board several months ago adjourned a lengthy hearing on the effect of increased crude oil production in Turner Valley on the oil and gasoline industry in Canada. The hearing was adjourned to permit negotiations between representatives of the producers and the railways for lower rates on crude oil to the head of the Great Lakes.

It is thought here the independent producers have turned their attention to the westward movement of oil over the Rocky Mountains through a pipe line. British Columbia's crude oil requirements now largely come from California by tanker and the oil is laid down more cheaply than Alberta crude moved over the mountains by rail.

However the producers believe Great Britain would be interested in an assured supply of oil from the Dominion.

Plane From U.S. Now at Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP)—A flying laboratory bearing six men for scientific research in wild New Guinea landed here from San Diego, Calif., at 6.22 a.m. (8.52 a.m., P.S.T.) today.

The huge flying boat Guba, meaning "Sudden Storm," alighted in the harbor with its commander, Richard Archbold, and his party of scientists, 18 hours 9 minutes after its start on the 2,624-mile flight from California.

Montreal Gazette 160 Years Today

MONTREAL (CP) — The Gazette, Montreal's first newspaper and one of the oldest on the continent, celebrated its 160th birthday today. A special edition reviewed its long history from the time of its founding June 3, 1778, by Fleury Mesplet.

With a tiny wooden press, Mesplet started the paper off as a weekly called Gazette du Commerce et Letteraire pour la Ville et District de Montreal. It became a semi-weekly in 1829 and a full-fledged daily in 1853.

Schuschnigg Is Reported Married

VIENNA (AP)—The marriage of Kurt von Schuschnigg, former Chancellor of Austria, and Countes Vera Fugger von Babenhausen, with the absent bridegroom represented by his brother as proxy, was reported today by a usually reliable informant.

The marriage, this source said, took place today in the private chapel of the Dominican church in Vienna's downtown section.

Dr. Arthur von Schuschnigg took the place of his brother, detained by the Nazi authorities since Germany's absorption of Austria March 13.

The 40-year-old Von Schuschnigg was a widower. The countess, mother of four children, was separated from her husband, and was reported to have got an annulment.

RUST REPORTS BOOST WHEAT

WINNIPEG (CP)—Serious rust damage reports from sections of the United States winter wheat belt today caused a good buying rally on Winnipeg Grain Exchange, lifting wheat futures higher for the fifth consecutive session. At the final bell prices were 1⅛ to 2¼c higher, July $1.02⅞, October 79c and December 77½c.

Temporary lack of southern demand for July wheat allowed that future to slip more than two today after it had scored advances of more than 13c earlier in the week.

July late climbed more than five from bottom levels, while October and December advanced more than two.

Private reports from Oklahoma stated rust damage would reduce yield per acre. These reports coupled with unexpected higher Liverpool prices aided Chicago in scoring gains of more than a cent.

Liverpool closed 1⅝d higher. Buenos Aires at noon was 1 to 1⅜c off.

Cash wheat demand lagged and spreads on hard red springs, based on the July future, eased three. Nos. 1, 2 and 3 Northern were at 18, 14 and 5 premium above July, respectively.

Coarse grains recovered early weakness and in routine dealings moved sympathetic with wheat.

CHICAGO (AP)—A bulge of nearly 2 cents in Chicago wheat prices late today resulted largely from sharp rises of July quotations at Winnipeg.

Trade volume here was larger than recently. Incentives were found in gossip about government loans on wheat and in assertions that Washington officials were planning to divert $100,000,000 to relief purchases of agriculture products.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ½ to 1⅛ above yesterday's finish, July 70¼ to 70⅜, September 71½, corn ⅛ to ⅜ up, July 57⅜ to 57½, September 58⅛ to 58¼, and oats ⅛ to ¼ off.

London Market

LONDON (AP)—The stock market closed steady and was of a pre-holiday character, despite the fact the new account opened today. Motors, steel and tobacco shares were at higher prices. Other industrials and gilt-edged issues held firm. The oil and mining groups moved irregularly while German bonds sold off. Domestic rails sold down on unfavorable traffic returns.

The stock market will remain closed until Tuesday, Whitsuntide holidays.

Closing: Brazilian, 1½b, CPR 8⅝, International Nickel 44⅞, U.S. Steel 140⅛, British-American Tobacco 96s 10½d ex-div. Cable and Wireless £47⅛. Dunlop 26s 3d. East Geduld £11⅛. H.B.C. 20s 6d. Woolworth 61s.

Leaders Shift But Fractions Either Way

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was all but unconscious today and most leaders shifted only small fractions either way.

It was one of the slowest full day's performances in the past 18 years, transfers amounting to approximately 300,000 shares.

Aircrafts led a feeble early rallying attempt, but most issues were unable to stir up sufficient followings to move ahead. The list was irregularly lower at the close.

Major commodities pushed higher, reflecting the cutting down of supplies in many producing fields, but stocks paid scant attention to this brighter development.

Drab business skies continued as one of the principal market depressants, although in some sectors it was felt the recession may be dragging bottom.

Pleasing to the brokerage fraternity was the statement of chairman William O. Douglas of the Securities and Exchange Commission he saw no further need of "cracking down" on the stock exchange and he was convinced future problems could be settled by the "round table" method. This, however, resulted in no rush to accumulate shares.

Demand for bonds lagged after the market's upturn earlier in the week on the successful sale of about $200,000,000 in new issues.

Top-grade corporate loans eased with a reactionary shift in U.S. government issues, which gave up part of the gains scored in the preceding session.

Down fractions to more than a point near the final hour were American Telephone 3¼s of 1966, Santa Fe General 4s, Bethlehem Steel 3¾s, Detroit Edison 4½s, Erie 5s of 1975, International Telephone 5s, Illinois Central 5s of 1955, New York Central 5s, Southern Pacific 4½s and Walworth 4s.

Catching a Puma Alive

Among the large animals of the cat family is one on our own continent with several good names. Perhaps the best names are puma" and "cougar," but it also is called "panther," "painter," and even "mountain lion," although it is not correct to class it as a lion.

The puma is a fierce and powerful beast with sharp claws, and with teeth fitted for tearing flesh. Often it grows to a length of five feet, not counting the tail.

A puma with cubs.

Up to about 120 years ago, pumas were to be found in almost every province of Canada, and in most American states. Nowadays they are seldom seen running wild except in certain parts of the Rocky Mountain area.

Many zoos contain pumas, and sometimes we may observe such an interesting sight as a mother puma carrying a cub around in her mouth. Like a lion or a tiger, she knows how to hold a cub firmly enough so it does not fall out, but not so tightly as to hurt it.

Most pumas in zoos were captured as cubs out in the wilds, or else were born in captivity. Now and then, however, a full-grown puma is taken alive, either in a trap or in some other way.

Buffalo Jones, a cowboy, and Zane Grey, a widely-known writer, took lassos with them when they went out to capture a full-grown puma. They also had the help of several hounds.

Before long a large female puma was seen on the branch of a pine tree. The dogs howled as they jumped about beside the trunk, and Jones made ready to throw his lasso. Before he could do so, the animal made a leap to the ground 30 feet below.

Then she bounded up "like a yellow rubber ball," and ran with the hounds yelping after her. The chase led down a ravine and became so close that the puma ran up another pine tree a few hundred yards distant.

Out on a large limb went the puma, but this time it did not dare to jump—for the limb hung over the deep ravine. Jones climbed the tree to a point on the trunk above the limb, then threw his lasso. Time and again he threw, but missed. Then he circled her neck, and pulled the rope quickly.

The puma leant, and Jones used all his might to hold the rope. The beast swung in mid-air, and Jones began to climb down. Before he reached the ground, he tumbled and let go of the rope.

The next scene was a mass of fighting animals — the dogs against the big cat. In the excitement Zane Grey slipped and fell down the side of the ravine. When he crawled back, the fight was still going on, but Jones had the end of the rope again.

The puma made a flying leap at the cowboy, but missed him. A moment later he managed to tie one end of the lasso rope around a sapling. Seizing a stout stick, Grey drove the badly-bitten and badly-scratched dogs away from the puma. Another lasso was throw around her, and this was fastened to a different tree. Then the animal's legs were tied up so she could be taken out of the forest.

HOROSCOPE

SATURDAY, JUNE 4, 1938

After the early morning adverse planetary aspects dominate today, according to astrology. There should be much before-breakfast work accomplished.

This is an auspicious rule for outdoor recreations and the wise will abandon important business problems for the day.

Drowning accidents will be numerous and automobile fatalities on the increase, despite safety campaigns.

Increase in prices of many commodities may be expected. The wise householder will look ahead and prepare for a rising cost of living.

Children born on this day probably will be studious and industrious, but rather careless about money matters. Subjects of this sign are often too generous for their own best interests.

DEAR MISS DIX—We have a Mother's Day and Father's Day and Be Kind to Animals Day, and in Texas they have even a Mother-in-law's Day. Why not an Old Maid's Day? Why don't we set apart one day during the year to pay a tribute to the many old maids whose lives have been sacrificed for others? MARIE S.

Answer: I don't know. Maybe it is because most elderly unmarried women resent being called old maids and would take it as an insult instead of a compliment to have public attention focused upon their being unappropriated blessings. You can't very well cheer for dear old Miss Susan who isn't proud of being a Miss instead of a Missus.

But, anyhow and anyway, I am strong for the old maids whether they chose the single estate, or it was wished upon them. And I am ready to throw confetti, or march in a procession, or wear a flower in my buttonhole, or attend a banquet, or do any other old thing in their honor.

And I think it will be a fine thing for all of us to be forced to remember for one day in a year what we forget the remainder of the time; that is what we owe to the women who are the cornerstones of the churches, the philanthropists, the cultures and the civic movements in every community and who, having no families of their own, pinch-hit for all the mothers, sisters and aunts who can't, or won't, make the grade. They offer up their lives as sacrifices on the altars of strangers without even expecting a reward of love and gratitude. Theirs the cross without the crown of glory.

There is the name of many an old maid written large on the scroll of fame—Florence Nightingale, the saint of modern nursing; Clara Barton, founder of the Red Cross; Jane Addams, social worker and founder of Hull House; Frances Willard, founder of the Women's Christian Temperance Union; Christabel Pankhurst, organizer of the women's suffrage movement in England; Susan B. Anthony, who did more than anyone else to give American women the right to vote; Mary Lyon, pioneer of education in the United States, founder of Mount Holyoke College, and an endless list of other spinsters whose work in art, in literature, in science, in commerce have won the respect and admiration of the world.

Fishing Boats Back At Work

VANCOUVER (CP)—Approximately 1,000 boats were reported at the blueblack salmon fishing grounds today after fishermen's unions and cannery operators reached a price agreement.

The agreement provided a scale of six and seven cents a pound for June, 6¼ to 7¼ cents from July 1 to August 10, and reversion to the June price after the August date.

One halibut boat sold on the Vancouver Fish Exchange yesterday. Zeballos sold 6,000 chicken at 5.4 cents; 8,000 medium at 6.6 cents; 200 large at 6.3 cents and 2,000 ling cod at 3 cents.

Two Sea Serpents Seen at Olympia

Olympia, Washington, has discovered two sea serpents and no reference is made to either being related to Cadborosaurus. The Daily Olympian reports the discovery by Archie Reed as follows:

"They looked, in general, like snakes. More than 20 feet of each of them was in sight. The pair of them had a dead mud shark, or what looked like a mud shark, and were eating it. Their heads, much like snakes' heads, stuck about three or four feet out of the water. Then part of the body went under water, then a big coil came up out of the water, and then some more was submerged, and then—back where the tail should be—the serpents were all hairy.

"Reed said the creatures had very blunt noses. Their eyes were small, he said, and he did not get a very good look at them. The serpents were in shallow water, about 50 feet from shore. Their bodies were between two and three feet in diameter. Overhead, seagulls flapped about, yearning to feast on the mud shark, but fearful of the serpents.

"Reed turned his boat toward the serpents and advanced. They deserted their meal and fled. But he got within 50 feet of them.

"'If I'd only had a gun', said Reed."

McMurray Tells Of Steamship Economy

Coast Savings of $450,000 By Unification, B.C. Coast Service Head Says

OTTAWA.—Capt. R. W. McMurray, manager of the British Columbia Coast Service of the Canadian Pacific Railway, testifying before the Senate railway committee here, was called on to explain contemplated savings of $450,000 by unification.

The C.N.R. maintained two all-year-round services, Vancouver to Prince Rupert and Vancouver-Prince Rupert to the Queen Charlotte Islands. During the summer the services are extended to Alaska. Five vessels constituted the C.N.R. fleet.

On the other hand, the C.P.R., with a fleet of 15 vessels, maintained eight all-year-round services, while both companies had car-barge ferries between Vancouver and Vancouver Island.

Capt. McMurray related how the C.N.R. in 1930 had brought two new vessels to compete with the C.P.R. in the Vancouver-Seattle service and had put on three ships to Alaska, which previously had been served by the C.P.R. and some United States lines. In 1931 the C.N.R. dropped the Seattle service, but continued to operate the Alaska route.

Witness declared $100,000 savings could be effected by eliminating two vessels from the Alaska route and $97,000 by unifying the car-barge services. This contemplated abandoning the terminal at Port Mann and routing traffic through Vancouver.

Under separate management two new steamers would have to be built in the next few years at a cost of about $3,000,000. By unification this would be unnecessary, so that, at 4 per cent a year, $120,000 would be saved and 3 per cent depreciation, or $90,000 annually additional, would also constitute an economy. Other savings would increase the figure to more than $400,000, said Capt. McMurray.

DOWN THE GANGWAY

COMRADES REUNITED

Twenty years ago, W. D. Cook of Gisborne, New Zealand, and J. W. Cummer of Calgary, were buddies in the Great War.

Mr. Cook, who is a sheep rancher in New Zealand, reached Victoria yesterday by the Aorangi on his way to Calgary to visit his old comrade whom he has not seen since the signing of the armistice.

In the war Mr. Cook was attached to the New Zealand Field Artillery, and Mr. Cummer was a member of the Princess Pats.

"I am looking forward to this meeting," said Mr. Cook. "We have corresponded about once a year, so the link has not been broken." By making this trip I shall have missed at least a couple of frosts in New Zealand.

The New Zealander plans to spend a few weeks with his friend in Alberta and will return home on the next outward trip of the liner Niagara.

EMPIRE MARKETS

R. W. Haddon of London, one of five British delegates to the Empire Primary Producers' Conference, which met at Sydney in April, returned by the Aorangi from Australia. Mr. Haddon, who is managing director of the Farmer and Stock Breeder and the Poultry World, said the object of the conference was to formulate a scheme whereby supplies of primary products could be regularized. The United Kingdom, he said, was not a "bottomless pit." There were definite limitations to the quantity of products which England could take from the Dominions and foreign countries. Britain, in recent years, had taken material steps to encourage home production.

The Sydney conference, Mr. Haddon said, endorsed the Ottawa form of preference. It was hoped that when the countries within the Empire were organized on the same basis as the United Kingdom farmers they would establish commodity boards which would have for their object the regularizing of supplies of produce for the United Kingdom market, and also the finding of new markets for surplus products.

Mr. Haddon will spend a few days on Vancouver Island inspecting farming conditions.

IDEALIST VISITS

Alec. E. Glassey, former Liberal member for East Dorset in the British House of Commons and a former Lord Commissioner of the Treasury, president of the Y.M.C.A. and Post-war Brotherhood Federation, who reached the city by the motorliner Aorangi, has "visions of the day when there will be no need for nations to destroy one another in battle."

Admitting that Premier Chamberlain's policy may avert a European war, at least for the time being, Mr. Glassey regrets the recent shuffle in the British cabinet. He expressed the view that former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Britain's greatest living idealist, was on the right track.

Mr. Glassey sees a ray of hope for peace in a possible rift between Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini over the annexation of Austria and the rapprochement negotiated between Britain and Italy.

FAIRBRIDGE FATHER

Coming ashore here to inspect the Prince of Wales Fairbridge Farm School at Cowichan Station, Andrew Reid, iron and steel magnate of Sydney, and father of the Fairbridge school recently established at Molong, New South Wales, reached Victoria by the Aorangi yesterday, en route to England.

He was met at the boat and entertained by L. A. Grogan, secretary, and Col. H. W. Lawes of the local Fairbridge committee, and during the afternoon called on R. W. Mayhew, M.P.

TALKED AIRPLANES

Quizzed on the proposed new superliners for the Canadian-Australasian service, N. S. Falla, managing director of Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, who arrived by the Aorangi en route to England, preferred to talk about airplanes. He said the company's air services between the north and south islands of New Zealand were being steadily developed.

Airplanes, in fact, had to do with his present trip. "We are looking into the question of British machines," he said. Two Lockheed Vegas were recently purchased by the company in California.

Any statement regarding the proposed subsidized motorliners for the trans-Pacific route, he said, would come from Sir Edward Beatty of the C.P.R.

Gordon Johnston, traffic manager for Canadian National Railways at Sydney, Australia, pulled a handful of silver out of his hip pocket as he conversed with C.N.R. officials in his cabin aboard the Aorangi yesterday.

"Do you still carry your change on your hip, Gordon?" asked W. G. Connolly, C.N.R. passenger agent, Vancouver.

"Sure, I have done it ever since I left Prince Rupert on St. Patrick's Day 16 years ago," replied Mr. Johnston.

Popular with Australians, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were showered with gifts on leaving Sydney. They hope to go on to London after spending some time in Canada and will return to Australia later in the year.

"Conditions in Australia were never better and our business is good," the traffic manager said.

Ss. Prince Robert of the Canadian National fleet opens the Alaska season tonight with the first sailing from Vancouver for Skagway via Sitka and the fjords, Gardner Canal and Douglas Channel.

For two years in succession the season has opened with the liner carrying the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce goodwill tour to Alaska. W. S. Rosecrans, president of the chamber, will lead the party north this year.

"Reflecting perhaps the result of unsettled conditions abroad our Alaska bookings have never been greater in the line's history," stated a Canadian National officer today. "There are 17 sailings scheduled to Alaska this summer and many were heavily booked before the season started."

Among the B.C. passengers are Henry Mackin, vice-president, Canadian Western Lumber Company, and Mrs. Mackin, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Mickler and the Misses V. M. and V. G. Claridge.

From the east are G. L. Carrothers, Toronto, and L. Rankin and E. E. Porter, New York City. Rev. H. Condit, missionary, will be a passenger northbound to Sitka with Mrs. Condit.
